NOT GUILTY!

Simon Rayfield Vaughn, right, walks into the Hancock County Courthouse to hear the jury's "not guilty" verdict on Friday, accompanied by Sheriff Steve Garber and Capt. Bobby Underwood. Below: The family of the victim, Larry Garcia, awaits the verdict.

Vaughn acquitted in '03 shooting of Larry Garcia

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

The trial of Simon Rayfield Vaughn, a Bay St. Louis man accused of murder and aggravated assault, ended Friday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty on both counts.

Vaughn was taken back to the Hancock County Justice Facility, where he is currently incarcerated pending trial on unrelated drug charges.

Vaughn, 22, had been accused of fatally shooting

Larry Garcia and wounding his cousin, Dallas Fowler, after the Nereids parade in February of last year.

Garcia and Fowler had allegedly gone to the corner of Herlihy and Olivara streets in Waveland to purchase cocaine. A block party

Chemical leak at DuPont DeLisle injures seven workers

Four hospitalized, three treated on-site for chlorine inhalation

An incident that DuPont DeLisle plant officials have called a "small release" of chlorine gas caused a stir in the surrounding community Friday morning when residents witnessed emergency vehicles leave plant property. Four employees were transported to Garden Park Memorial Hospital in Gulfport for emergency treatment for injuries resulting from the release, plant manager Pat Nichols confirmed Friday morning.

A leak in a pipe that is part of the recirculating system within the plant manufacturing process was the cause of the problem, said Nichols, and four employees were working in close proximity to the pipe when the leak occurred.

Pat Nichols

Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality Emergency Responder Earl Ethridge said seven contractors were working in the immediate area and three were treated on-site for chlorine inhalation, with four going on to the hospital.

The leak happened at about 8 a.m. and lasted about ten minutes, said

Hancock may lose national flood insurance protection

BY BENNIE

Residents in the unincorporated areas of Hancock County not complying with floodplain regulations are about to lose their flood insurance through the national program, and the rest of us may not be far behind, according to a spokesman for the National Flood Insurance Program. Flood insurance is regulated and administered through a federal program.

First steps for refusal to comply will be a cancellation of policies for those residents in non-compliance. Next, inspectors will revise estimates for remaining policies and raise insurance premiums. The next step will be to place the county on probation and add a $50 surcharge on each of the existing policies.

Should the county fail to resolve issues of non-compliance at this time, then there will be a recommendation to suspend all National Flood Insurance Program policies in the county. Flood insurance will then be unavailable to residents. Compliance with regulations is required everywhere, said Robert Durrin of the

Sex offender sought by Hancock courts

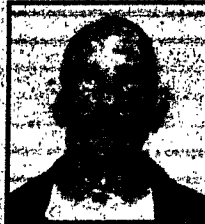

Fugitive apparently tried to fake his own death after indictment

Law enforcement agencies are seeking the whereabouts of a Pass Christian resident, who was indicted by a Hancock County Grand Jury last month. He is charged with sexual battery and alleged rape of a 16-year-old girl, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Jack C. Harris, II, 35, was arrested for the alleged crimes, as he was to be interviewed for a job as a police officer with the Long Beach Police Department in early January, according to an earlier report given by Hancock Sheriff's Investigator Tom Roan.

Harris

Roan said at the time the sheriff's office received a complaint on Jan. 1, 2004, when the girl's mother came to the sheriff's office to report the crimes.

On Friday, Roan reported, "Following Harris' being indicted on five counts of sexual battery and two counts of touching for lustful purposes, Harrison County deputies found his vehicle abandoned in a wooded area near the Wolf River."

"Investigators recovered a wallet and a Mississippi driver's license and other items belong to Harris. A dive team was unsuccessful in a search of the river. It is now believed he is a fugitive and not a drowning victim," Roan added. The 16-year-old girl told investigators the alleged crimes were over an eight year period.

Roan said investigation leads officials to believe that Harris had someone to help him escape. "If he drove his car to the river, he would have needed someone to pick him up," he allowed.

Prior to being indicted by the grand jury, Harris had posted a $150,000 bond, according to Roan.

Harris, originally of Florida, is 5'9" and weighs 185 pounds and has a burn scar on his left hand.

Roan believes that it is possible that Harris may have attempted to alter his appearance and could possibly try to alter his identity too.

Shoreline man faces arson, assault charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A Shoreline Park resident faces charges of alleged arson and domestic violence in connection with an incident reported to the sheriff's department on Oct. 3, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Walter Dennis Cox, 44, was extradited from LaPlace, LA on October 21, where he was in jail since early October, Investigator Tom Roan reported late Friday.

"Cox's bond is set at $205,000, $200,000 for the alleged arson of a dwelling, and $5,000 for an alleged domestic violence charge," Roan said.

In addition, Cox was out on bond at the time of his arrest in LaPlace for an alleged assault in Hancock County on April 30, 2004, Roan reported.

The initial investigation into the domestic violence charge was handled by Hancock Investigator Deron Cuevas, with the arson investigation continuing.

Cuevas had reported, "A warrant had been issued on alleged domestic aggravated assault on Cox and the extradition process had begun to have him returned to the county."

Cuevas added, "The victim, Donna Zimbrowski, in her statement, alleged that Cox tried to drown her, struck her in her face and threatened to kill her. The victim was taken to Hancock Medical Center for treatment."

Cox and Zimbrowski had been reported as dating by authorities. At the time of the initial report, the Dove Street address structure where the incident occurred was destroyed by fire.

Hancock County Management director Brian Adam (county fire investigator), assisted in the investigation of the alleged arson.

"The alleged arson charges against Cox were filed following his return to Hancock County following his extradition from Laplace, Roan reported.

Quick actions nab burglary suspect

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

A burglary suspect was nabbed by Bay St. Louis Police due to quick notification and keen observance by citizens, according to Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil.

McNeil said, "William Eugene Naulty, 18, Barcelona Court, Bay St. Louis was arrested Thursday shortly after he was seen attempting to break into a home in the subdivision by another resident. Naulty is lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $25,000 bond."

In a news release McNeil said, "Our department received a call from a neighbor in the Spanish Acres Subdivision. Officer Edward Besse responded immediately and during an interview with the complainant, obtained a detailed description of the suspect and property taken from the residence. Officer Besse summoned Detective Lt. Tom Burleson to the scene and relayed the information."

"That along with other information led to the arrest of Naulty and the recovery of the stolen property by Lt. Burleson," McNeil added.

McNeil continued, "Due to the quick notification and keen observance of our citizens and the immediate responded of Officer Besse, an arrest was made just a short while after the burglary occurred and the stolen property recovered. Our Department encourages all citizens to report any strange occurrences in their neighborhoods to the Police Department by calling 467-9221."

"Because, it is with citizens and police working together that we can prevent and solve crimes in our community."

Charlie Hodge thanks 10-year old Taylor Ward for his donation of $100 dollars. The money will go towards building a new handicapped accessible home for Hodge, who lost his two previous residences to flood and fire. Construction workers donated their time on Saturday to frame Hodge's new home. The 24-by-24 house will be handicapped accessible for Hodge, who has cerebral palsy. Hodge said he hoped the house would be ready in time for Christmas.

Community pitches in to help create home for Hodge

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Hancock County resident Charlie Hodge has had a run of bad luck lately. Thanks to the help of the community, however, it may finally be nearing its end.

Hodge has already lost two houses to fire and flooding. He has been staying at a friend's house due to lack of lodging.

But several businesses and charities in the area have pitched in to help build Hodge a new home.

Chari Rapp, of McIntyre-Rapp real estate has been helping to organize the aid effort. She said that donations were being routed through Word of Faith christian fellowship.

Among the many people who donated was Taylor Ward, a 10-year old resident of Waveland who heard about Hodge's situation, and gave $100 of his life savings to the charity.

Several organizations in the area have donated crafts to the project already.

The Waveland Fire Department will be doing sheetrock work. Foreman Roofing will put a roof on the house. Patton Plumbing will do pipe work and Smokey's Custom Cabinets will help to install the kitchen.

"People have been so generous and helpful," she said.

Hodge said he was very thankful for the aid the community has given him.

"I appreciate the help, and the fine work they've been doing."

Hodge said that if things kept up according to schedule, his home might be finished in the holidays.

"It would be a nice Christmas present," he said.

For more information on donating, contact Word of Faith Christian Fellowship at 467-4488, or Chari Rapp at 467-3777.

DMR announces change to allow Multiple Point Hook use

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) has announced a revision to Ordinance 7.027 authorized by the Commission on Marine Resources at its October 19, 2004 meeting. Effective December 1, 2004, the amended ordinance will allow fishermen the use of treble, or multiple point hooks when fishing with live, dead or cut bait.

The change eliminates Section 11, which states: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use a multiple point hook (e.g., double or treble hooks) when fishing with live, dead or cut bait within the saltwaters under the territorial jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi."

This section shall not be construed to restrict the types of hooks which may be used on artificial lures."

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. Visit the DMR online at

Cuevas' Quotes

Hail to the new champions!

The Bay High Lady Tigers are the 2004 Class 1 volleyball champions.

The state championship just moved a few blocks across town from champs of several years, the Our Lady Academy Crescents.

In order to go for the title, Bay High defeated arch-rival OLA in four sets on the South State battle. Then Bay High defeated North State champs Desoto Central for the over-all state championship.

There is no question about Bay St. Louis being a powerhouse in ladies' volleyball circles with Bay High and OLA having two very fine programs.

The Lay Tigers head coach Liz Bosarge has to be very proud of the accomplishments of her volleyball squad, as well as the school's administration, students, city and parents.

To be state champs in a sport is a great honor and each and every team member of the Lady Tigers need to be commended for their great effort.

If you see one of the team members, namely; Destiny Flood, Kendra Reed, Tamara Reed, Hannah Johnson, Leighanne Williams, Jessica Johnson, Lindsey Trotter and Brooks Lichenstein, just give them a special congratulations. Do not forget coaches Bosarge and her husband Lee Bosarge too.

Next Sunday is Halloween and what has become a tradition in Hancock County on Halloween, is the Hancock County Historical Society's Halloween Cemetery Tour.

Sunday will mark the 11th year for the special tour in Cedar Rest Cemetery which begins at 5 p.m. Cedar Rest is located on S. Second Street, Bay St., Louis, between Main St. and the railroad tracks.

There will be a dozen or so folks from the past who will be portrayed in the tour.

Cedar Rest has been around a very long time, as research by Meg Hilliker, who led several volunteers in recording legible headstones, sets the first marked burial date in the year of 1821.

Myself, I have several of my ancestors such, as my grandfather, great-grandfather, and great-great-grandfather buried in Cedar Rest, as well as other family members.

Last year there were over 1000 to visit Cedar Rest on Halloween for the tour.

One of the major projects of the Historical Society is to restore and repair tombs, tombstones, markets, etc., of Defense bill will benefit South MS & the U.S.

On Saturday, October 9, 2004, the U.S. House of Representatives overwhelmingly passed the Fiscal Year 2005 Defense Authorization Conference Report (H.R. 4200). I am pleased with several provisions of the $447.2 billion legislation that will be of great benefit to South Mississippi and the nation. I feel that our nation's present military challenges should remind every American of our responsibility to provide special attention to the needs of our service members and their families, and this legislation goes a long way toward fulfilling that commitment.

Earlier this year, the House and Senate each passed their own versions of the Fiscal Year 2005

Defense Authorization Act. For the past several weeks, select members of the House and Senate met in a conference committee to negotiate a final version of the Defense Authorization. This conference report is the product of these negotiations. Now that it has passed in the House, the measure will be considered in the Senate and sent to the President for signature.

The measure includes $25 billion in additional funds for operation of increased force protection items that our troops need such as body armor, armored Humvees and trucks, and explosive-device jammers. It also provides a 3.5% pay raise for military personnel, and expands access to the military's TRICARE health care system for members of the National Guard and Reserves and their families, even after they are no longer on active duty. Additionally, the agreement eliminates the Social Security offset under the Survivor Benefit Plan by increasing the annuities paid to survivors who are 62 or older from 35 percent of retired pay to 40 percent by September 2005 and up to 55 percent after March 2008. Finally, the conference report authorizes full "concurrent receipt" to military retirees with service-connected disabilities rated as 100 percent beginning January 1, 2005.

I was also pleased with that the conference report included nearly $4 billion dollars for the construction of ships at Northrop Grumman's Ingalls and Avondale Gulfport shipyards. I am particularly pleased that I was able to add $150 million to begin construction of the LHA(R), a next-generation Amphibious Assault Ship with expanded aviation capability. This ship was not requested in the President's budget, but it was a high priority of the Navy and Marine Corps. I also was successful in establishing in this measure a new hazardous duty pay of $150 per month for members of the uniformed services who regularly perform duty as a member of a military fire-fighting crew.

Although pleased with most of the bill, I am deeply disappointed that the provision that would delay the next round of base closures and realignments (known as BRAC) was deleted from its final text. I was the sponsor of the two-year BRAC delay that was included in the House-passed Defense Authorization bill. This critical provision was dropped because the President had threatened to veto the Defense Authorization Conference Report if it called for a delay of the next round of base closures that Morality is not a double-edged sword!

Considering the fact that our local communities are embroiled in a battle to combat a zoning decision, which would allow the operation of a gentlemen's club in the county. One has to question the wisdom of an organization that would put in print the details of a fundraiser based on the concept "locals shed their clothes for calendar to help animals".

We can't have it both ways!! The bleeding heart justification that the project is "to save the animals" is not a righteous cause. While we all agree their abuse is a deep black mark on man we must recognize that animals do not have souls. But the souls of the young women who will be lured into a lifestyle which exploits their body for the "pleasure of the flesh" is another matter. I think this group of women should seriously rethink any such venture and I am embarrassed for our society to realize we have come to this level of ambiguity. Your group has just handed the attorney's for the rezoning issue a "silver platter" on which to base their case in favor of "the illusion of nudity".

We wonder why our younger generation is confused. So, it's ok for Mom, Auntie or Granny to "appear" to bare all in the name of charity but our daughters, nieces and granddaughters should be admonished for doing this same thing for profit. Someone please explain the logic behind such judgment!!

Sincerely,
Edna Kopytyra

Taylor -- defense bill

are scheduled to take place in 2005.

I strongly disagree with the President's decision to close more bases. We are at war in Iraq and Afghanistan.

As a result of these conflicts and in response to other national security and homeland defense missions, our nation's military forces are under incredible strain. Active duty forces are stretched so thin that we're increasing force levels by 23,000 in this legislation. In addition, members of the National Guard and Reserves have been called up and are serving active duty tours for extended periods of time.

On top of this, the Department of Defense has announced that it will soon begin relocating thousands of troops from overseas bases in Europe and Korea to installations in the U.S. If we're bringing back all these troops and increasing the size of the military, we may need more bases, not fewer.

I think proceeding with BRAC 2005 is a terrible mistake and will cause long-term damage to our nation's armed forces. As a result of my concern, I requested a to reinstate language that was in the House passed bill that would postpone the 2005 round of base closures and realignments until 2007. Unfortunately, it failed on a largely party-line vote. I regret that the majority voted for another round of base closures.

Other items in H.R. 4200 concerning South Mississippi include:

LHA(R) Advanced Procurement - $150 million in FY 2005 for Advanced Procurement for the LHA(R) future Amphibious Assault Ship replacement. Northrop Grumman Ingalls Shipyard is the builder of this vessel.

DDG-51 - $3.5 billion for construction of three DDG-51 Arleigh Burke Aegis Class Destroyers. Northrop Grumman Ingalls Shipyard will build one of the DDG-51s.

DD(X) - $1.5 billion to continue development and begin construction of the first DD(X) land attack destroyer. Northrop Grumman Ingalls Shipyard has been awarded the contract for the design and construction of this vessel.

LPD-17 - $987 million for construction of 1 LPD-17 Amphibious Lift Ship. Construction of this vessel is split between Northrop Grumman Ingalls and Avondale Shipyards.

LHD-8 - $236 million for continued construction of the LHD-8 Amphibious Assault Ship. Northrop Grumman Ingalls Shipyard is the builder of this vessel.

LCAC Service Life Extension Program - $90.4 million for service life extension upgrades to the US Marine Corps' air-cushioned landing craft. The rubber skirts for the LCACs are manufactured at Bell-Avon in Picayune.

M777 Lightweight Howitzer 155MM - $95 million for low-rate of initial production of M777 Lightweight Howitzer assembled at BAE Systems in Hattiesburg.

Bradley Fighting Vehicle Reactive Armor - $17.5 million to upgrade armor protection for Bradley Fighting Vehicles and their crews. Reactive Armor is manufactured at General Dynamics facility in Wiggins.

CVN Propeller Replacement Program - $4.9 million for the procurement of a ship set of Generation III propellers by Rolls Royce Naval Marine (formerly Bird Johnson) in Pascagoula for in-service aircraft carriers (CVN).

Logistics Supply Vessel (LSV) Service Life Extension - $2 million in FY 2005 for bow-redesign and improvements by VTHalter Marine in Moss Point for Army LSV crafts 1 through 6.

Advanced Army Composite Bridge - $5.6 million in FY 2005 is required for fabrication and test of an Advanced Army Tactical Bridge. Seemann Composites, Inc. in Gulfport has developed the Advanced Army Composite Bridge.

Advanced Composite Structures Program - $1.4 million in FY 2005 is required for fabrication and test of full-scale elements by Seemann Composites, Inc. in Gulfport for Virginia Class submarine.

Nitrile Rubber Collapsible Storage Units - $3.3 million in FY 2005 for procurement of fuel and water storage container units for forward-deployed troops. The Nitrile Rubber Collapsible Storage Units are manufactured at Bell-Avon in Picayune.

Gulf Coast Joint Harbor Operations Center (JHOC) - $1 million in FY 2005 for acquisition of equipment items for the JHOC mission at Naval Station Pascagoula. The JHOC is an important new homeland defense mission located at Naval Station Pascagoula.

Eagle Eyes Nuclear Detection Program - $1 million is provided for continued research and development of this program that will enhance national defense and homeland security capabilities. The University of Southern Mississippi is leading this effort.

Strip club

Magnolia 1, Inc. have filed a motion to have the matter decided by jury in the Southern Division of the United States District Court. The suit was filed on Thursday.

"We have taken the matter out of the political arena and put it into the judicial arena," said Florida attorney Luke Lirot.

"We basically wanted to take the heat off of the county and let a judge make the decision," said Kirk Ladner, one of the owners of Magnolia 1, the club proposed to be located on Hwy. 90. Weldon Frommeyer has put in an application to locate another club on Hwy. 603.

"It was too much to ask that the elected officials speak for the rights of the minority when the majority was in opposition of the proposal," said Lirot.

The basis of the suit involves the right of the businesses to exist under the stipulations of the First Amendment which guarantees the right of the freedom of religion, speech, the press, the right of peaceful assembly, and the right to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The amendment has further been interpreted to include freedom of expression.

The suit was presented to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Thursday. The board has 20 days to respond to the matter.

"We are willing to negotiate with the county," said Lirot. "And have not named any one person in the suit. We do not want to be combative or aggressive and have faith in and respect for the abilities of the county government, but realize that a decision to uphold the rights of the first amendment would be a tough one."

Lirot said that his clients took time to locate property which would be out of the mainstream of the community or would be separated from the community by physical barriers, such as the canal that runs by Frommeyer's property on Hwy. 603.

The county cannot ban these types of businesses from the community, he said, and the people who would frequent them have just as much of a right to satisfy their interest in sexual expression as do people attending area churches have the right to satisfy their religious expression.

There is no difference in the rights, in regard to the first amendment, Lirot said. If the rights guaranteed there are allowed to be violated in one way, then could just as easily be violated in other ways, he said. The Baptist Church could just as easily be shut down, he said.

The suit will also question local zoning ordinances regarding special exception permits and practices which the suit says allows for "unbridled administrative discretion" and a "denial of due process."

Lirot could not give an accurate estimate as to when the case might be scheduled, but said it would likely be at least 6 months to a year before it would come to trial.

"I would consider seven months to be speedy," said Lirot.

Two public hearing on the two proposals drew hundreds of residents in opposition of the proposals.

Fall Car Care

Knowing what to do in case you're involved in a car accident will help keep you calm and levelheaded.

Know Your Auto-Accident ABCs

It can happen to even good drivers. You are driving along to the grocery store or to visit a friend, and suddenly you find yourself in an auto accident. In fact, the National Center for Statistics and Analysis (NCSA) reports that 6,276,700 non-fatal crashes occurred in the United States in 2003.

Do you know what to do once your car is struck? Read on to learn how to be prepared if it happens to you.

First, remain calm. If possible, stop your car in a safe and visible place. If your car cannot be moved, turn on the hazard lights and turn off the ignition. Be careful when exiting your car, especially if there is traffic. Most important, find out if anyone is injured. Do not move a seriously injured person. Call the police immediately, even if the accident appears minor.

Write down the other car's year, make, model and license-plate number. In the event that the other person drives away, you will still have some information to report to police. Next, get the driver's name, address and license number, and the name of his or her insurance company. If the driver is not the owner, get the owner's name.

Get the names and addresses of passengers or witnesses. Next, take note of specific details. Accident circumstances, time of day, location, weather conditions and visibility are all crucial information that you will likely be asked for by police and your insurance company. Write it down now before you forget details.

Notify your insurance agent about the accident immediately. Even if you are at fault, do not admit it to the other driver or police until you have contacted your insurance agent. Do not accept any money or sign anything unless it is for the police or your insurance agent.

Naturally, all of these steps are contingent upon your being uninjured in the crash. If you are injured, try to call 911, or wait for an ambulance to arrive.

Being involved in an auto accident will always be a complicated and frightening experience. But if you know what to do after it happens, you will save yourself a lot of time and stress down the road.

To Lease or to Buy a New Car? That is the Question

So you want to get a new car. You have chosen the color, make and model and envision yourself in the car, cruising down the highway. But now you have to decide whether to lease or buy. Do you even know the difference between the two? Here are some basics from car experts on both options to help you in your decision.

OWNERSHIP

Leasing: You do not own the vehicle. You have to return it at the end of the lease, which typically lasts three to four years. Most leases indicate a purchase option.

Buying: You get the benefit of owning something and can keep it until you sell or trade it in.

THE CAR OF YOUR DREAMS

Leasing: You can drive a car you can't afford because you'll have a lower monthly payment than if you took out a loan.

Buying: You are paying for the entire cost of the vehicle. So you must have the financial means to pay off the loan.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Leasing: You pay for the vehicle's depreciation during the lease, interest and other fees. Monthly lease payments are lower than loan payments. You can put down as much or as little a downpayment as you'd like. But it's wise not to put down too much since leasing's low rates make it more advantageous to keep your money in the bank.

Buying: You are paying for the vehicle's cost, interest and other fees, no matter how many miles you drive it. Monthly loan payments are higher than monthly lease payments.

When getting a new car, make sure you understand the differences between leasing and buying.

MILEAGE

Leasing: If you don't drive a lot, leasing may be your best option as most leases limit the number of miles you can drive (10,000 to 15,000 miles per year). To get a higher mileage limit, you'll have to pay more each month. (It's typically cheaper to pay for miles upfront rather than at the end.) In turn, you'll likely have more maintenance costs on your car. You also might get partially refunded for miles that you didn't use.

Buying: You can drive as many miles as you want. But higher mileage impacts a vehicle's value and can result in frequent repairs and scheduled maintenance visits.

REPAIRS

Leasing: If you lease the car for the length of the manufacturer's warranty, you won't have to pay for major repairs. But since you don't own the car, you can't make any changes to it such as upgrading equipment or painting the exterior.

Buying: Make any upgrades or changes to the car that you'd like. But you have to foot the cost of any major repairs.

END OF TERM

Leasing: You have to pay any end-of-lease costs, buy a new car or lease a new car. If you end the lease early, you'll have to pay penalty fees. You may be responsible for excessive wear, such as worn tires, when you return the vehicle (look for disclaimers in your lease).

Buying: At the end of your loan, you are done making payments. If you end the loan early, you'll be responsible for any pay off. When it's time for a new car, you may have to sell or trade in your current one.

Winter Car Care is More Important Than You May Think

As colder weather approaches, motorists should start thinking about taking their vehicle into their dealer or repair shop for a check-up and preventive maintenance. Here's advice on how to get ready for winter from the nonprofit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), the group that tests and certifies automotive technicians.

* Read your owner's manual and follow the manufacturer's service instructions.

* Replace worn wiper blades; keep extra washer fluid on hand.

* Check all lights and bulbs, turn signals, back-up lights, etc.

* Replace worn tires with all-season radials or snow tires, as local conditions warrant. Make sure the spare tire has air and the jack functions. It's also a good time to have alignment problems corrected.

* Engine performance problems (rough idling, poor acceleration or hard starts) should be corrected before cold weather sets in.

* A qualified auto technician should check the condition of your battery and cables, radiator and all hoses and belts.

* Make certain the heater and defroster are in good working condition; have the exhaust system examined for leaks, a potentially deadly condition in closed vehicles.

* Carry emergency gear: flares, boots, gloves, ice scraper, high-energy snacks, a blanket, shovel, flashlight, tire chains, a few tools, a cell phone and a first-aid kit.

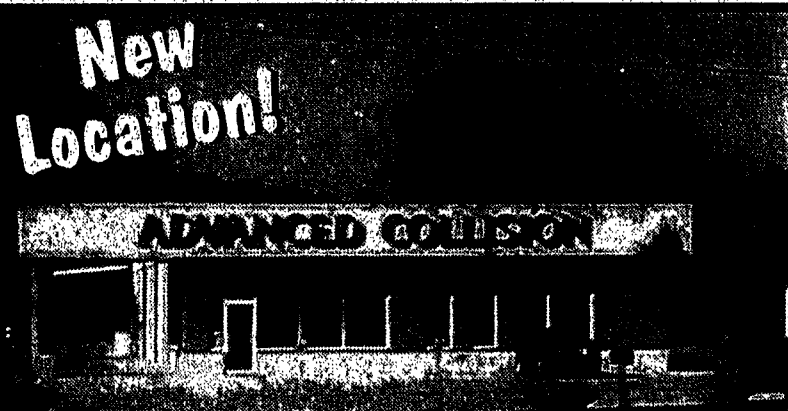

Visit www.ase.com for car-care tips and information about how you can benefit from voluntary technician certification.

Choosing the Right Oil: Just the Facts, No Friction

Many people don't know how to select the motor oil that will help them get optimum performance out of their car. People often select the oil their father used or take the suggestion of a counter person at an auto-parts store who may not know any more about cars than they do.

There are meaningful differences between motor oils. In fact, the right oil is often the quickest and cheapest way to improve your car's performance and reliability.

MOTOR OIL BASICS

Two components determine how well motor oil will perform in your car. One factor is the base oil, and the other is the combination of chemicals (additives) that are added to the base oil.

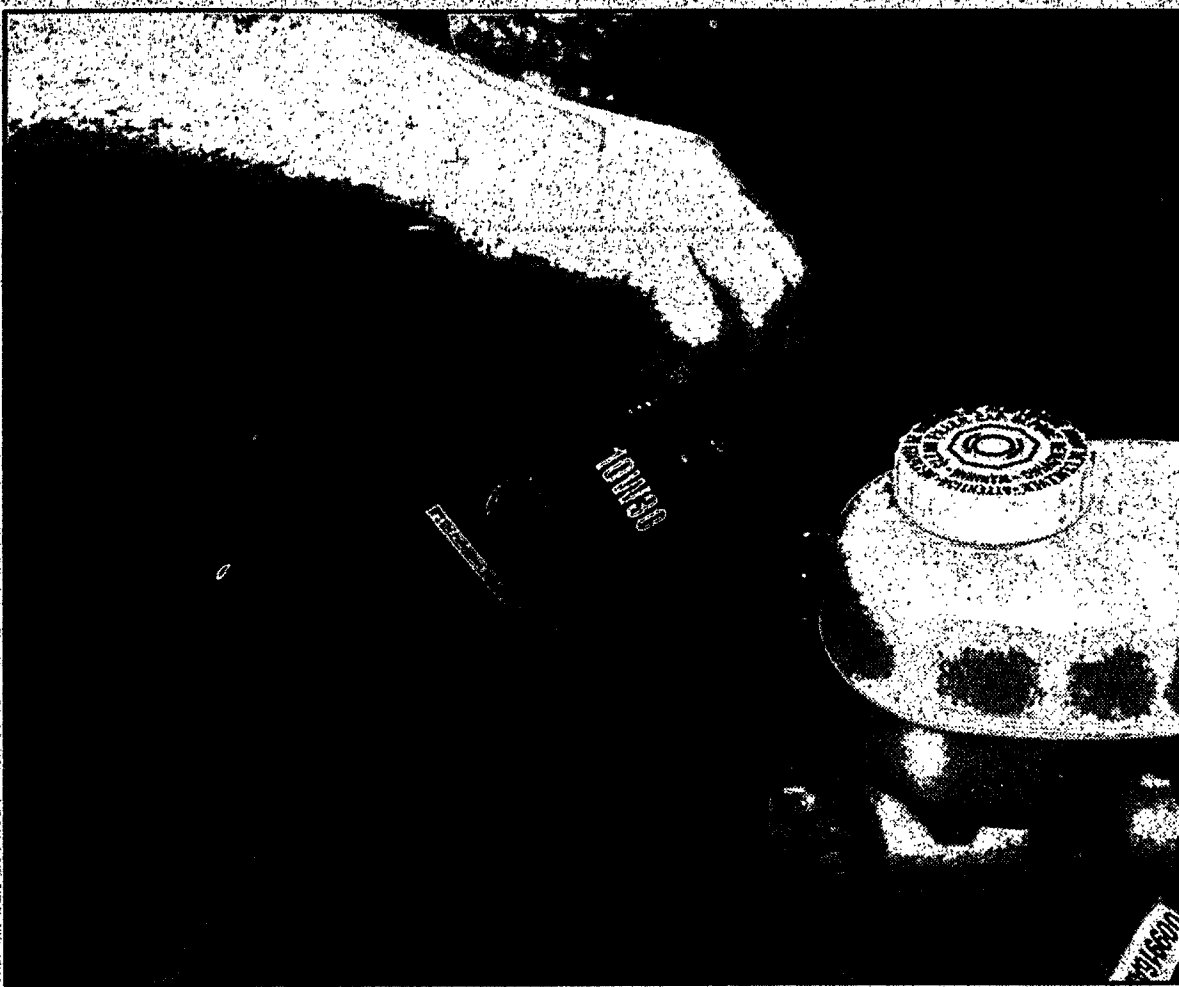

1. Base oils: The two primary types of base oils are mineral and synthetic. Mineral oils are by-products of refined crude oil. Refining helps reduce impurities but leaves molecules of all shapes and sizes. Synthetic oils are man-made compounds whose molecules are all the same size and shape; consequently, synthetic oil has less friction and performs better than mineral oils.

There's been sizable growth in the use of synthetic oils over the years. In fact, synthetic oils are often the factory fill in many new performance and luxury cars.

2. Additives: Regardless of the base oil used, chemicals must be added to motor oil to help it do its job. Typical additives include detergents to reduce the formation of residue, defoamants to deter absorption of air, anti-wear agents and antioxidants.

Although additives are typically only 15 to 25 percent of motor oil, they can impact a lubricant's performance much more than the base oil. For instance, mineral-based motor oil with a very good additive package can easily outperform synthetic motor oil with a mediocre additive package.

There is no easy way for a

Upgrading motor oil can have a meaningful impact on your car's performance and reliability.

consumer to determine the quality of motor oil's additive package. Price is often an indicator of quality since the more advanced additive technologies cost more to produce. However, performance is the ultimate measure of additive package quality.

ADVANCES IN LUBRICATION

Some of the biggest technological strides in lubrication are coming through advancements in chemical additives. These breakthroughs have been developed by companies that specialize in high-performance lubricants, as opposed to major oil companies who refine and sell crude oil by-products like gasoline and other fuels.

One high-performance lubricant company, Royal Purple, has developed lubricants that outperform both leading mineral oils and other synthetics. Their oil has been proven in numerous independent tests to reduce engine wear, increase horsepower and torque, and decrease fuel consumption and emissions. Cars using their oils can also last longer between oil changes, saving the owner time and money.

The company's products are commonly used by professional racers. Additionally, in an annual competition among America's top engine builders, seven out of eight chose Royal Purple for their engines. Their products are available exclusively through select auto parts stores and service centers. For more information, visit www.royalpurple.com.

WHAT OIL TO CHOOSE

The easiest way to select motor oil is to follow the good, better, best model:

GOOD — Mineral-based (regular) motor oils — These are the cheapest and most widely available oils. They typically use standard additive packages that provide minimum levels of performance and protection.

BETTER — Synthetic motor oils — These man-made oils are more expensive than mineral-based oils but are still widely available. Their performance advantages come predominantly from the synthetic base oil used. They typically use the same additive packages found in mineral-based oils. They have a longer service life and offer some improvements in protection.

BEST — High-performance synthetic motor oils — These motor oils are the most technologically advanced oils. Although they significantly outperform mineral-based or synthetic motor oils, they are about the same price as standard synthetic motor oil. They are typically only available through auto parts stores and select oil change centers. These oils primarily differ in their use of more advanced, proprietary additive technologies.

Still confused? For a used car with little life left in it, stick with mineral-based motor oil. For a car you plan to keep for a few years and want to get a little better performance from, you should at least upgrade to synthetic motor oil. To get the most performance out of your car, truck or RV, or to protect a vehicle you really care about and want to last, upgrade to a high performance motor oil.

Prepare Your Car for Sale

You clean your home when you are expecting company. You wear a nice outfit when you want to "sell" yourself on a date or an interview. The same can be said for selling your car. You have to get your car up to par when you want to impress buyers. Sure, you can't change the car's age or mileage, but you can make other improvements to the interior and exterior to make it attractive to buyers.

Here are some improvements you can make to your car to maximize your selling price.

Exterior and interior: Make the car presentable by cleaning it inside and out. Get it washed and waxed on the exterior and vacuumed, cleaned and deodorized on the inside. A clean, shiny vehicle will show that you've taken good care of it.

Repairs: Fix anything that is easy to replace, such as headlights or car mats. If you are short on time, get an estimate of the repairs and factor those costs in when negotiating a sale price.

Paint: Paintless dent repair or airbrushing at a body shop can fix small dents, scratches and chips in a few hours.

Written records: By supplying a buyer with organized and neat vehicle records, you're showing that the car was in capable hands. If the car was serviced at a dealer, get a computer printout of the car's service history. Also, be sure that you have the title and any other helpful written materials.

Tigers scratching for playoffs with 21-7 win

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
Contributing Writer

The Bay High Tigers ended their four-game skid and regained their winning form with a 21-7, district win at East Central on Friday night. The win upped the Tigers district record to 2-3 (5-4 overall) and a clear shot at a playoff spot with a win at home against Vancleave next Friday.

The Tigers successfully pounded the ball at the East Central defensive front line and effectively managed the clock. East Central did much of the same with a fairly successful running game of their own, but the Tigers defense did an exceptional job of shutting down the Hornets, particularly on a couple of key stops inside the Tigers 5 yardline.

Facing a fourth down and goal only inches from the goal line early in the second quarter, Kadeem Perkins and Cory Thornton got in the Hornets backfield before the play developed and dropped the Hornets running back for a two yard loss.

"That was a huge stop," said Tigers coach Brennan Compretta. "That was the biggest stop the first half. That gave us a boost going into the second half."

"I couldn't be more prouder of a group of guys. They came out ready to practice this week and they played hard. They don't quit."

The Tigers got on the scoreboard on their second possession of the game with a 48-yard reverse run as senior Lorenzo Lewis outran defenders untouched for the touchdown with 3:50 remaining in the first quarter. Brian Wilson's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

The Tigers defense ended a the Hornets ensuing 11-play possession with the key goal line stand. And inspired by their defense, the Tigers offense compounded the problems for the home team with an 11-play drive of their own, concluding with a five yard touchdown run carry by senior Antonio Hawkins. Wilson's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 14-0 lead with 2:24 remaining in the half.

One of the key plays of the second scoring drive was fourth down conversion on a quarterback keeper by Corbin Blaize.

The Hornets offense failed to convert a fourth down play on their next possession as Brad Ladner recovered a high snap over the head of the Hornets quarterback. The Tigers were again in business with decent field position at the Hornets' 33 yardline but without enough time to add to their lead. The Tigers led 14-0 at halftime.

Trevor Adam recorded a huge sack for a 5-yard loss on the third play of the second half to force the home team to punt and to break any momentum the Hornets attempted to build in the second half.

A 46-yard Tony Marino punt into the Hornets end zone capped the Tigers next possession. The Hornets managed a first down, but that was all the Tigers defense would allow as Jake Johnson recovered a Hornets fumble on fourth down in the East Central backfield.

A 50-yard Marino punt capped the Tigers next possession but instead of going into the end zone, this one was rolled down to the Hornets one yardline. The Tigers defense denied the Hornets a first down and they were forced to punt.

Blaize connected with Lewis on the first play of the third quarter for a 33-yard gain to the Hornets 13 yard-line. But Blaize was intercepted inside the 5 yardline three plays later to end the drive.

Three plays later, the Hornets quarterback completed a pass over the middle, but Walter Fox was right there to make the tackle and to take the ball out of the hands of the receiver and to run the ball into the end zone for the score. Wilson's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 21-0 lead with 9:09 left to play in the game.

The Hornets got on the scoreboard on their next possession, but it was too little too late as the Tigers got out of Hurley with hopes of going to the playoffs.

On the night, Hawkins led the Tigers with 116 yards and a touchdown on 24 carries. Lewis added 53 yards on two carries and a touchdown, and two receptions for 44 yards. Blaize completed two of seven passes for 44 yards and an interception. Marino averaged 42 yards on five punts, including 46- and a 50-yarder.

Adam led the Tigers defensively with 17 tackles and a sack. Ladner tallied four tackles, a forced fumble and recovered a fumble. Cory Thornton contributed 10 tackles. Fox had six tackles and a fumble recovery for a touchdown. Jake Johnson had six tackles and one sack and a forced fumble. Perkins added eight tackles and one sack, and Lewis had two interceptions.

The Tigers host Vancleave next Friday night at J.D. McCullough Stadium in Bay St. Louis in a critical Division 8 4A clash. A win would extend the season for the Tigers.

Bay's Reed casts lot with USM's Lady Golden Eagles

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Bay High Lady Tiger All-American forward Kendra Reed gave a verbal commitment to the University of Southern Mississippi Lady Golden Eagles' basketball program last week.

Reed, a 5-11 All-State player for Coach Debbie Triplett, stated, "I chose USM because of several reasons. First, and foremost, the school will help me with my academic ambitions, as well as my athletic ambitions. Secondly, Coach Joye Lee-McNelis is a great role model. Both she and her staff challenge their players both on and off the court. Thirdly, it was close to home which allows my family, friends, teammates and church members to come see me play and support me."

The Dandy Dozen pick has started for Coach Debbie Triplett's squad since the eighth grade and helped lead the Lady Tigers to the 2003 Class 4A state championship and a 35-1 record. The Lady Tigers have played in three consecutive state title games between 2002-04.

Coach Triplett commented on Reed, "She is definitely one of a kind. I am glad that she made her decision early which will allow her to concentrate on her senior year. The recruiting process can be a tough one on the player and their family. She was recruited heavily and USM maintained their focus on her. Her signing reinforces how far the basketball program at Bay High has come in the last 5-7 years. It also reflects how basketball is being played in Hancock County."

Reed is a full qualifier as freshman having scored a 24 on the ACT and maintains a 4.08 GPA. She was recruited by several major colleges but narrowed her list to Murray State, Mississippi State, Southeastern Louisiana, Samford, Tulane, Ole Miss and USM. The Alpha Honor Roll student is also involved in Interact Club, Gates for Success, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Campus Life, National Honor Society and was selected Homecoming Queen in 2004.

The five-year starter has played both forward and guard at Bay High and averaged 22.1 points, 7.2 rebounds, 3.1 steals, and 1.6 assists per game last season while leading Bay High to a 29-7 record and a runner-up place finish in the state tournament.

She has been named to the All-Division team for four consecutive years and is a three-time reigning MVP of the division. The three-time All-State player participated in Junior Olympic basketball in both 2003 and 2004 and also plays AAU basketball for the New Orleans Dominos.

Reed has scored 2,123 points in her career and has led her team to a four-year record of 118-24.

Reed envisions herself as a physical player who can step out and shoot. However, she admits that her shooting always needs work, as well as, her ball handling. Reed is projected to play the 2 or 3 spot in college.

Rocks rip Gators 28-7 for first-ever division title

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (7-1, 5-0) claimed their first-ever division championship in football with a 28-7 win over the Gator Gators (6-3, 4-1) at War Memorial Stadium-Dutch Binion Field on Thursday, October 21.

The Division 8-4A title assures SSC of hosting their second consecutive home playoff game against an opponent to be determined from Division 7-4A. SSC head coach Casey Wittmann, a 1984 alumnus of SSC and former Rock quarterback, has taken each of his three teams at SSC to the postseason. This will be SSC's fifth postseason appearance since the state went to a classification system in 1982. SSC has advanced to the playoffs in 1990, 1998, 2002 and 2003. The Rocks were an independent until the 1990 season.

SSC head coach Casey Wittman, drenched from head-to-toe by a Gatorade shower, commented, "This is a wonderful feeling and the credit goes to the players on this team and our staff. Both the staff and the team have set some high goals this season and this was one of them. We got behind early but fought back. Gautier has speed at every position and I thought we handled their speed well."

The Rocks held the Gators to just 135 total yards on offense - 20 yards rushing, 115 yards passing and only 8 first downs.

Wittmann continued, "The players have remained focused on their goal all season which was simply to play the next play. The coaching staff - Mark Logan, Stu Rayborn, Stace McRaney, Andy Kivlan, Brian Keys, Eric Hoffer, Stan Dellenger, Bruce Morreale, Dave Boos and Mike Proulx - have dedicated themselves to getting the players to this level. Three years ago, these seniors had 50-plus points hung on them three different times. Those little boys came back and grew up. I can't say enough about my staff and these players and how hard they have worked. There is one more district game against D'Iberville. We have to hit the practice field and get ready for the Warriors. We need to work hard and retain the focus that we have had all season long."

SSC opened the game on offense with Lee Klein gaining 17 yards and a first down on the first play from scrimmage. However, a fumble on the next play turned the ball over to Gautier at the Rock 39 yardline. The Rock defense forced the Gators to punt away when Zach Elkins, Michael Cure and Brennan Thomas snuffed out a reverse for a minimal gain.

SSC took over at their own 11 yardline but were unable to move the pigskin and punted away.

Maurice Mendenhall hooked up with Jonathan Massey for an 8-yard gain on the first play of the drive. The Gators picked their way down the field with minimal gains until Mendenhall threw one to the endzone. SSC defender Stefan Sofianos went up and picked off the pass in the endzone for a touchback.

Once again the Rocks were unable to convert and had to punt away. The Gators took over at the Rock 43 yardline. They went backwards following a fumble that cost them three yards. On the next play, Mendenhall threw a screen pass in the flat to John Welch who appeared to be stopped for no gain. However, a shifty and slippery move enabled Welch to reverse field and turn the corner on the opposite sideline for a 46-yard scoring run with 11:00 left in the first half. Josh Nelson converted on the PAT and the Gators were up 7-0.

SSC started their next drive from their own 20 yardline and five plays later the game was tied. Rock running back Josh Duplessis ripped off a 19-yard run for a first down followed by a Lance Cuevas to Sofianos connection for 10 more yards. Duplessis saw daylight for 9 yards followed by an errant Rock pass. Duplessis took the handoff on the next play and followed his wall of blockers for a 42-yard scoring run with 9:00 left in the first half. Bryce Morreale tied the game at 7-7 with his PAT.

The two teams traded two possessions each before SSC got the ball back with less than one minute remaining in the half. The final :30 of the half would break Gautier's back and seal the title run for the Rocks.

Starting from his own 15 yardline went to the airwaves on five consecutive plays with only one incomplete pass. Cuevas hooked up with Sofianos for a 14-yard pickup followed by two 12-yard catches that brought the ball to the Gautier 46 yardline.

On the next play, Cuevas hit Josh Morgan across the middle who outran defenders for a 46-yard score with :30 to play in the half. Morreale's PAT was good and the score was 14-7.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Gators lost the ball when Klein smoked the ball carrier forcing the pigskin loose. The ball was recovered at the Gator 25 yardline. Klein gained four yards on the middle on the first play. On the next play, Cuevas went back to the air and hit Brennan Thomas with one of the most spectacular catches in recent memory. Thomas was outstretched bringing the ball down when he was hampered right in front of the goalpost by a Gator defender.

However, Thomas retained his magnetic grip on the ball for a 21-yard score with :10 left in the half. Morreale's PAT made the score 21-7 and sucked the wind out of the Gator's sails.

Thomas recalled the catch, "Lance Cuevas stuck the ball in the only place that I could catch it and there was no way I was going to drop the ball. I saw the defender when I went up for it so I knew he was there. It was just a matter of taking the hit and holding onto the ball."

SSC went in at halftime nursing a 21-7 lead and put the Gators on the ropes.

The Gators came out on offense in the second half and put together their most productive drive of the second half which resulted in a missed 26-yard field goal with 7:44 left in the third quarter. The Rock defense withstood two quarterbacks alternating plays on the drive as Klein and Jordan Ellis laid hit after hit and Cure broke up two passes on the drive.

SSC took over on their own 20 yardline. Ellis took the handoff on the first play and bulldozed his way forward for 11 yards knocking off a Gators' helmet in the process. The Rocks alternated running Duplessis, Ellis and Klein on the drive. Cuevas hit Sofianos for a 12-yard gain and Cure gained a first down with a 26-yard reception that helped the Rocks get down to the Gator eight yardline. The Rocks lined up for a 25-yard field goal attempt that missed, also, with 1:43 left in the third period.

The two teams traded possessions before SSC got the ball back on the Gator 36 yardline. Following a minor setback, Cuevas dropped back and completed a pass to Cure who shook loose from a Gator defender and went 41 yards for the score with 7:59 left in the game. Morreale converted on the PAT for the final score of 28-7.

The Gators took over at their own 38 yardline following the return. Behind the play of quarterback Julius Banks, the Gators moved the ball into Rock territory. Gautier tried a halfback pass with Welch throwing downfield inside the Rock 10 yardline. The receiver went up to catch the pass and just as he put his hands on the ball, Cure brought the lumber down hard from his safety position and folded the outstretched Gator like and oyster. The ball was jarred loose and the Gator threat was thwarted.

SSC took over at their own 29 yardline. Klein ripped off a 19 yard run for a first down followed by Ellis' 12-yard gain. Two consecutive runs by Duplessis put him over the century mark for the sixth consecutive game. Following Duplessis' run, the Rocks were able to run the clock out by kneeling on the ball and claiming their championship.

Gautier head coach Don Nelson commented, "Their two scores right before halftime was crucial in the outcome. It took the wind out of us. There are no excuses. They just whipped us. St. Stanislaus has a very good football team over there and they showed a lot of class on the field tonight, especially at the end. I wish them the best and hope that they represent our division well in the playoffs."

The Rock defense snuffed out a hot Gator offense that had thrown for 1,700 yards in 8 games this year. The defense was led by Lee Klein who collected 14 total tackles in the game with 1.5 sacks and a forced fumble. Zach Elkins added seven tackles with a sack and pass break-up followed by Jordan Ellis and Michael Cure with 6 tackles each. Cure had three pass break-ups on the night.

Offensively, the Rocks were led by Duplessis who carried the ball 20 times for 131 yards and a score. Cuevas threw for 221 yards on 12-for-20 passing and three touchdowns. Cure continues to add to his career receiving yards with four catches for 87 yards and score. Sofianos had five catches for 55 yards and Thomas had two catches for 33 yards.

The Rocks will host the D'Iberville Warriors 'in between the walls' on Friday night in the final regular season game. Game time is set for 7 p.m.

Picayune's Maroon Tide rushes past Hawks 40-3

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Hancock Hawks (1-8, 1-4) dropped their gridiron matchup with the Picayune Maroon Tide (5-3, 3-2) on Friday night on the road 40-3; however, nobody can say that they gave up at any point in the game.

The young but inspiring Hawks continue to improve under the watchful eye of Hawk head coach Walt Esslinger despite what the lights on the scoreboard reads.

Esslinger commented, "I am so proud of these kids and how they play each other. They play hard and don't quit and that is all I can ask of them."

Picayune started the game on offense and Cody Bales carried six of the seven times on the first drive. He gained 47 yards on six carries including the final play which was a 5-yard scoring run with 8:48 remaining in the first period. Scott Hillary connected on the PAT for the 7-0 score.

Hancock took the field after the touchback on the kickoff and tried three different runners which were held to minimal gains. Hancock had to punt away to the Tide.

Picayune took over on their own 48 yardline with former Hancock and SSC running back Robert Jackson in the backfield. Jackson carried six times on the eight-play drive for 46 yards including the 11-yard score that ended the drive with 2:35 remaining in the first quarter. Hillary converted on the PAT and the score was 14-0.

The Hawks took over at their own 26 yardline following Anthony Guidry's return of 18 yards, mark Fairley broke free for a 36-yard run on the first play of the drive. Andrew Smith ripped off 13 yards on the next play for Hancock.

Minimal gains and a sack forced Hancock into a punting situation; however, a Picayune penalty on the punter gave the Hawks an automatic first down at the Maroon Tide 20 yardline.

Following three minimal gains on the new series, the Hawks lined up for a 37-yard field goal by Justin Radcliff with 11:14 left in the first half. The kick was good and the score was 14-3.

Following the touchback, the Picayune offense took only six plays to score. Bales ripped off 57 more yards on four carries including the 20-yard scoring run at the end of the drive. Hillary converted on the PAT with 8:39 left making the score 21-3.

The Hawks gained two first downs on their next drive on runs of 13 yards by Braxton Necaise and 12 yards by Fairley. However, the Hawks were forced to punt away.

The Hawks played hard-nosed defense on the next series led by John Lacoste who had four tackles on this drive alone. Hancock put Picayune in a third and 23 situation, but Alex Riser found Desmond McDougal for a 29-yard gain and a first down. Four plays later, the Tide's Jackson would score from 12-yards out with :35 left before halftime. Hillary's PAT was good making the score 28-3.

Hancock started the second half on offense and almost went three-and-out; however, a Picayune dead ball penalty gave the Hawks a new set of downs. The Hawks still had to punt away and Paul Verdin pinned the Tide at the Picayune 17 yardline.

The Hawks took advantage of a Picayune miscue when Alex Toups pounced on a loose ball. However, the Hawks were grounded by a sack on fourth down that gave the ball back to the Tide.

Taking over at midfield, Picayune needed five plays to find the endzone. Jackson scored from 16 yards out with 1:40 left in the third period. Hillary's PAT was blocked by Trey McLeod leaving the score at 34-3.

Following a return to the Hawk 30 yardline by Guidry, Hancock managed an 18-play drive that would end at the Picayune 11 yardline. Braxton Necaise mixed the calls for the Hawks to keep the Tide off balance.

Necaise was sacked on the first play of the drive but then scrambled to return to the original line of scrimmage. Then, he hit Justin Kopf for a 12-yard gain and a first down. Later, he connected with Ryan Baker for a 13-yard pickup and a Hawk first down.

Fairley rushed twice for a Hawk first down and then caught two consecutive passes for 28 yards that brought the ball down the Tide 8 yardline. But, the drive stalled there for the Hawks.

Picayune's Tim Gaff ripped off a 35-yard run followed by Anthony Moses' 33-yard scoring run with 2:09 left in the game. Trey McLeod broke through to block his second PAT of the night on Joe Burge's kick. The final score was 40-3.

Offensively, the Hawks were led by Fairley with 10 carries for 71 yards. He also had four catches for 36 yards. Defensively, the Hawks were led by John Lacoste with 12 total tackles followed by Donovan Saucier with 7 tackles.

The Hawks play Meridian next week in region action. Kickoff time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Free breast cancer awareness luncheon sponsored by HMC

General surgeon David M. Rimmer III will discuss detection and treatment of breast cancer Wednesday, October 27 in a noon luncheon at Coast Electric's meeting room.

Hancock Medical Center is hosting the complimentary lunch to highlight Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The hospital's mammography staff will be on hand with displays and giveaways to increase awareness of the disease which can strike any woman, regardless of family history.

Reservations are required by calling 467-8727.

Early detection breast cancer improves the likelihood that treatment will be successful, according to the American Cancer Society. Finding cancers before they start to cause symptoms guidelines can save thousands of lives each year.

Several components of early detection include:

-Medical history and physical examination: Your physician will obtain information about your general health, symptoms and family history. A thorough examination of your breasts and lymph nodes is conducted to locate any lump or suspicious area.

Women in their 20's and 30's should have a clinical breast examination every three years as part of a regular health examination, according to the ACS. After age 40, an annual examination is recommended.

-Monthly breast self-examination: Women should be familiar with their bodies to be aware of any subtle changes. The goal is to report changes to a health care provider as soon as possible.

-Mammography: A mammogram is an x-ray of the breast which is used to look for breast disease in women who are asymptomatic. According to the ACS, women age 40 and older should have a screening mammogram every year. The process takes only about 20 minutes, with compression of the breasts lasting only a few seconds. This procedure produces a black and white image of the breast tissue on a large sheet of film that is read, or interpreted, by a radiologist.

The doctor reading the film will look for several types of changes:

-Calcifications or microcalcifications, are tiny mineral deposits within breast tissue that appear as small white spots on the film. They may occur singly or in clusters. They are a sign of changes within the breast and can be either carefully watched by additional, periodic mammograms or examined by biopsy (removal of a small amount of breast tissue). They may be caused by benign breast conditions or, less often, by breast cancer.

-A mass, which may occur with or without calcifications, is another important change that may be seen on a mammogram. Masses can be many things, including cysts and fibroadenomas, but they may be cancer and usually should be biopsied if they are not fluid-filled cysts.

-A cyst is a collection of fluid in the small sac in the breast. It can feel like a lump, usually soft, in the breast. Either a breast ultrasound or removal of the fluid with a needle (aspiration) is used to confirm that the mass, or lump, is a cyst. If a cyst has ultrasound features that are suggestive of cancer, fluid may be removed to be examined for malignant cells.

A mammogram cannot prove that an abnormal area is cancer. To confirm whether cancer is present, a small amount of tissue must be removed (biopsy) and examined under a microscope. Medicare, Medicaid and most private health insurance plans cover mammogram costs or a percentage of them. The Hancock County Health Department participates in the Mississippi State Breast and Cervical Cancer preventative program. (Call 467-5236 for additional information.)

Women who are uninsured and do not qualify for the above programs may be eligible for Hancock Medical Center's Mammography Assistance Program. Contact Coastal Family Health at 463-9666 for additional information.

Great Books group to meet next week

Books by author Dave Barry is the topic of discussion at the next Great Books Discussion Group Wednesday, October 27 at 7 p.m. in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis Hancock County Library.

Sponsored by the Hancock County Library System, the group has been meeting and discussing books since March, 1990.

During that time, they have read more than 345 titles from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke deTocqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions. The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The Great Books Foundation was established in 1947 by University of Chicago Chancellor Robert Maynard Hutchins. Its mission is to provide people of all ages, backgrounds and walks of life with the opportunity to read, discuss and learn from outstanding works of literature.

Today, more than 20,000 adults are members of Great Books discussion groups, and nearly one million students participate in Junior Great Books groups for grades kindergarten through 12.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. For this meeting's selection, call Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Why So Soon

I opened the door that Saturday afternoon after waking up from a dream about you.
My heart was racing, my body was shaking as Dad told me that your life had been taken.
I wanted to believe that it wasn't true as I ran to the bedroom to tell Sara too. We got in the car and drove to the house to find everyone quiet as a mouse.
Walking around as I was looking for you I finally realized that it was true.
I had just seen you that Friday night. You were happy and smiling and you seemed alright.
Mom I know you're gone, but I make this oath, I promise to take care of Dad and Sara both.
I wish I could hold you and see your beautiful face, but I know your happy in a better place.
We miss you!
Love,

Author of Blue Moon Café Stories highlights program

Writer, editor and publisher Sonny Brewer of Fairhope, Alabama, is the highlight of an Authors & Characters @ Your Library program Tuesday, October 26 at 7 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Hancock County Library.

Brewer is owner of Over the Transom Bookstore in Fairhope, Alabama. On the weekend before Thanksgiving, he holds an annual literary party/reading he calls Southern Writers Reading. Stories from the Blue Moon Café began at this event in 2002. It is a collection of writings by established writers like Winston Groom, Pat Conroy, W.E.B. Griffin, Rick Bragg and Judith Richards. There are some relative newcomers in the book, such as Marlin Barton, Melinda Haynes, George Singleton and Brad Watson.

Since the publication of the first volume, Stories from the Blue Moon Café II and Stories from the Blue Moon Café III are now available.

Brewer plans to share some human interest stories of the challenges and triumphs of putting together such a collection of writing and authors. Brewer will also discuss how the forthcoming spin-off collection, The Alumni Grill, has come into being; and, through all this, how he has managed to both publish new writers and complete his own novel, The King of Tolstoy Park.

The program is open to the public. To obtain more information, call Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Hancock Junior Miss Scholarship

Initial meetings are planned for all junior girls who live in Hancock County and wish to participate in the 2006 Hancock County Junior Miss Scholarship Program which will be held on February 19, 2006 at Bay High Auditorium. Those interested must attend one of the meetings which will be held at the Kiln Public Library. The final meeting is set for October 30 at 9 a.m. At this time applications will be completed and events, including practice, will be scheduled.

In Loving Memory of

Thaddeus Trent Ricard
10/24/93 - 2/01/99

Dear Thaddeus, Baby boy, we sent you balloons today, and put flowers on your grave.

Did you hear us when we sang happy birthday to you and wiped tears from our eyes?

We talked about how big and handsome you would be; who you looked like and what sports you would have been playing; what kind of grades you would have been making and how many pretty girls would have been running behind you.

It feels like just yesterday you were running through the yard and riding your bike, but now all we have are pictures and memories that no one can take away.

We miss you and we love you. We understand you're in a better place, where there is no crime and no war, just peace.

We'll be with you again one day. Until then, we just want you to always remember as the days turn to night and every month goes into another year and every year is one closer to being with you again on that mountain in the sky. You, me, and we together again.

Love You and Happy 11th Birthday

Winn-Dixie offers tours to local organizations

As parents and teachers gear up for the new school year, Winn-Dixie has teamed up with Field Trip Factory to offer educational tours for real world learning. Tours are open to all community organizations focused on educating pre-K to 3rd-grade age children. Gulf Coast area schools and children's organizations can schedule tours now to secure a spot on the fall calendar.

In conjunction with Field Trip Factory, Winn-Dixie provides free 60- to 90-minute store field trips for pre-K through 3rd-grade age children. During the guided field trips, students receive information that will help them make smart choices about good health and develop or enhance their skills in nutrition, meal planning, economic principles and decision making.

During the Winn-Dixie store tours, the students make stops in the produce, meat, deli/prepared foods, pharmacy and bakery departments, as well as the cereal aisle. They conclude the tour by conducting a "pretend" checkout at the Customer Service Desk to learn about money and pricing.

Field Trip Factory tours can also be customized for Brownie and Cub Scout merit badge qualifications.

The Field Trip Factory program runs now - June 1, 2005. To set up a tour with a participating Winn-Dixie store near you, call 800-897-6409, or go online to www.fieldtripfactory.com and click on Be A Smart Shopper.

"The best part about this field trip was teaching my students about the daily number of servings they should have from each food group," said a kindergarten teacher at Wares Ferry Road Elementary School of

Montgomery, AL. "I only wish this program could have been in effect when I was a child!"

The Field Trip Factory uses the Be A Smart Shopper!™ program, which reinforces the education curricula taught in schools. Over the last nine years, the program has reached more than 3,000,000 children in local classrooms, and over 200,000 have had the lessons brought to life right in the aisles of local stores.

"Winn-Dixie is committed to having a positive role in educating our youth, and this program is a great way to utilize our stores as learning tools," said Joanne Gage, vice president of advertising and marketing for Winn-Dixie. "We are excited about expanding this opportunity to include our Gulf Coast Winn-Dixie stores this year and encourage schools to embrace this learning experience." 3

Peoples Bank grand opening is Thursday

One lucky visitor to the grand opening of the new branch of The Peoples Bank in Waveland will win a $500 U.S. savings bond, announced Chevis C. Swetman, chairman and CEO. The formal ribbon-cutting and grand opening ceremony will be held October 28 at 10 a.m. at the new Waveland branch, located at 470 Highway 90 just west of Highway 603 and in front of the new Super Wal-Mart.

The grand opening open to the public, said Swetman, and anyone can register to win the $500 savings bond throughout the day of the grand opening. The savings bond will be given away in a drawing scheduled for 4 p.m. that day. The bank will also provide complimentary refreshments at the ceremonies.

The 2,350-square-foot building includes two drive-up teller lanes, a 24-hour drive-up ATM and an after-hours depository. In addition, the branch offers approximately 140 safe deposit boxes.

Manager of the Waveland branch is Basil Kennedy, a 27-year banking veteran in Hancock County.

"This expansion of our presence in Hancock County will help The Peoples Bank provide better service to our growing customer base in that part of the Gulf Coast," said Swetman. "We're proud to have a noted Hancock County banker like Basil Kennedy on our team; so far the initial response to our new Waveland branch has been extremely positive in the community," Swetman added.

Local cattle company joins American Angus Association

Hancock Cattle Co. Kiln, is a new member of the American Angus Association, reports John Crouch, executive vice president of the national breed registry organization in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with more than 34,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry Association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on more than 14 million registered Angus.

Founded in 1896, with $617 million in assets as of September 30, 2004, The Peoples Bank operates 16 full-service branches and 37 ATMs along the Mississippi Gulf Coast in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Stone counties. In addition to a comprehensive range of retail and commercial banking services, the bank also operates an asset management department that has provided customers with financial, estate and retirement planning services since 1936. The Peoples Bank is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Peoples Financial Corporation, listed on the NASDAQ Small Cap Market under the symbol PFEX. Changes announced at PPCC workforce center

Julie Lott has joined the Pearl River Community College Workforce Development Center staff as a Workforce Training Project Manager. The Center is located in The Lowery A. Woodall Advanced Technology Center in the Hattiesburg-Forrest County Industrial Park.

Lott, a native of Tifton, Ga., recently retired after 20 years of service in the Navy as a senior chief torpedo man's mate. She spent the bulk of her time in the Navy instructing torpedo man's mate electronics school in Keyport, Wash. and Orlando, Fla., and wrapped up her Navy career as senior enlisted advisor at Naval Weapons Station in Seal Beach, Calif.

She has a B.A. in Business Administration from Columbia College of Missouri. She and her husband, Randy, have two sons, Nathaniel, 14, and Cotton, Lott will be working on developing programs for Industrial Maintenance, GIS/GPS and CAD training.

In other Workforce Development staff changes, Rebecca Ellis Brown is the new computer instructor at the WIN Job Center and Patricia Fowler is the technical systems analyst for The Lowery A. Woodall Advanced Technology Center.

Brown, a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, transfers from the PPCC Small Business Resource Center.

The computer lab at the WIN Job Center provides computer classes on resume and cover letter preparation, keyboarding and a variety of business office software. "The goal of the program is to help students gain the necessary technical skills to succeed in today's job market," said Brown.

Fowler, also a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, transfers to the ATC from the WIN Job Center, where she was the computer instructor. Fowler and her husband, Drew, live in Purvis.

Jackson Hewitt® Computerized Tax Course Starts Soon

Graduates say they have put their new skills to work!

"I loves it so much I decided to work part time during the tax season," said Joseph Rutkowski, a retiree from Hagerstown, MD.

He is referring to the Jackson Hewitt® Computerized Tax Course Offered at this time each year; it provides graduates with the tax knowledge and computer skills they need to prepare tax returns.

"I needed to supplement my retirement income. So last fall I heard about Jackson Hewitt's Computerized Income Tax Course. With the extra money I now make as a tax preparer, I am able to maintain a better standard of living."

The course takes six weeks to complete and gives graduates the necessary training to prepare individual tax returns and to potentially earn extra money during the tax season. Students meet two times a week to take the course that combines instructor-led training with self-paced learning on the computer. Students are given an overview from the instructor and then move on to the computer to learn more detailed information through a self-paced CD. Objective testing and reviews check the students' progress. By the end of the course, students will be armed with the tax knowledge generally needed for preparing tax returns. Upon completion, graduates may receive interviews for employment at a local Jackson Hewitt location.

From college students to military spouses to retirees, graduates of the computerized course improve themselves as well as their pocketbooks. Although some graduates have a background in accounting, many do not. However once they complete the course using state-of-the-art computerized equipment, they have no trouble preparing most tax returns.

For more information, please call 1-866-680-1040 or visit our website at www.jacksonhewitt.com

Most offices are independently owned and operated. Completion of this course is neither an offer nor a guarantee of employment.

President Roderick Pullman
Hancock County Board of Supervisors
150 Main Street
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520

Reference: Compliance & the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP)

Dear President Pullman:

On January 6 and 7, 2004, Robert Durrin conducted a Community Assistance Visit with Mickey Lagasse and staff from Hancock County's Zoning Department. On February 6, 2004, you were provided a letter summarizing the results of the visit and listing several follow up actions that are required if Hancock County is to remain in good standing with the NFIP.

Additionally, you were provided a copy of the detailed report. The report contained tables and charts in addition to discussion on several points of concern. There was also discussion provided that highlighted many commendable actions that have been developed and implemented by Hancock County Zoning staff.

The following is a summary of important issues identified in the original correspondence and that will require your focused attention:

1. Provide "Submit to Rate" data.
2. Resolve the questions noted in the table in Section B-2 in the report.
3. In Section F (of the report), resolve all violations documented in photos.
4. For those buildings "Substantially Damaged since 1978", flag them to assure that if improvements or further damages occur, appropriate conclusions will be developed.
5. Solicit advice from the local attorney regarding the specifics of applying the conditions required in the Floodplain Management Ordinance to existing (pre FIRM) junk and salvage yard operators
6. Support floodplain management training for all Zoning Department (Floodplain Management) staff.

In Hancock County, there may be several hundred buildings that are, for a variety of reasons, out of conformance with the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance. Probably the most severe of them all, is an establishment locally referred to as "The Cave". It appears that this building was substantially improved without regard to incorporating the flood mitigation design required by the County's Ordinance. Other issues range from fully finished and functioning bathrooms in enclosures below elevated buildings and the base flood elevation, fully finished laundry service facilities below Base Flood Elevation (BFE), auxiliary finished rooms below elevated buildings and the BFE, inadequate hydrostatic venting of lower enclosures and attached garages, inadequately anchored accessory buildings, inadequately elevated machinery and equipment servicing buildings, and more.

We have asked of Mr. Lagasse that these issues be resolved and further asked that he provide an update of his progress by April 1, 2004. Though no written update has been provided, Mr. Lagasse has worked closely with Mr. Durrin as he endeavors to comply on behalf of Hancock County.

There is a documented history of Hancock County falling out of conformance with the participating requirements of the NFIP. There is also documented information that in each instance, the County's Zoning Officer took adequate measures to avoid compliance actions prescribed by the NFIP.

For your information, Hancock County voluntarily joined the National Flood Insurance Program in September 9, 1970. As such, County Commissioners adopted a Resolution of Intent outlining the County's commitment to engage in flood loss reduction by administering a Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance. In short, County Commissioners committed to a permitting, inspection, and enforcement program that would result in buildings being constructed safely and in recognition of identified high hazard flood areas.

Over some course of time, as identified in the CAV report, many buildings have been constructed that do not fully conform to the requirements of the County's Ordinance. These buildings must be brought into conformance, as agreed by County resolution and as outlined in the Ordinance, if the County is to avert the application of enforcement actions by this Agency.

A community with identified Special Flood Hazard Areas that is sanctioned for failure to administer its Ordinance faces serious reductions in Federal financial support. Specifically, all support that is contingent on the purchase and maintenance of flood insurance will be unavailable. Examples of such support are federally backed mortgages for private homeowners, disaster assistance for damaged publicly owned buildings, grant or loan assistance for construction and maintenance of certain critical facilities, grant assistance for mitigation funding, and more.

Per this letter, this Agency expects that Hancock County will pursue appropriate resolution of all issues presented as a result of the January CAV. For instance, all "illegal" bathroom facilities will be ordered removed. All "illegal" finishing will be ordered to be modified. All inappropriate uses will be ordered to cease. We would expect that the Board support Mr. Lagasse and his authority with his efforts to achieve full compliance of all issues.

If the County does not engage effectively, and take appropriate actions, then we will pursue appropriate prescribed enforcement actions. They may be:

1. Declarations of uninsurability for each building that remains out of compliance. This will most assuredly result in some lenders calling in loans, a reduced state of marketability for those buildings, serious limitations in disaster assistance related to contents and building damages, and more.
2. Rerating of each insured building. This will result in increased insurance premiums.
3. Recommendation to place the County on probation. This will result in a $50.00 surcharge per policy with a written invitation to policy holders to contact Community leaders for an explanation of why the surcharge is being imposed.
4. Recommendation of suspension in the event the County fails to resolve all matters identified. This will result in flood insurance being unavailable and sanctions as previously outlined.

Please provide Mr. Durrin with documentation by October 31, 2004, outlining the County's intent and that will indicate acceptable progress is being made toward the resolution of these deficiencies and conditions.

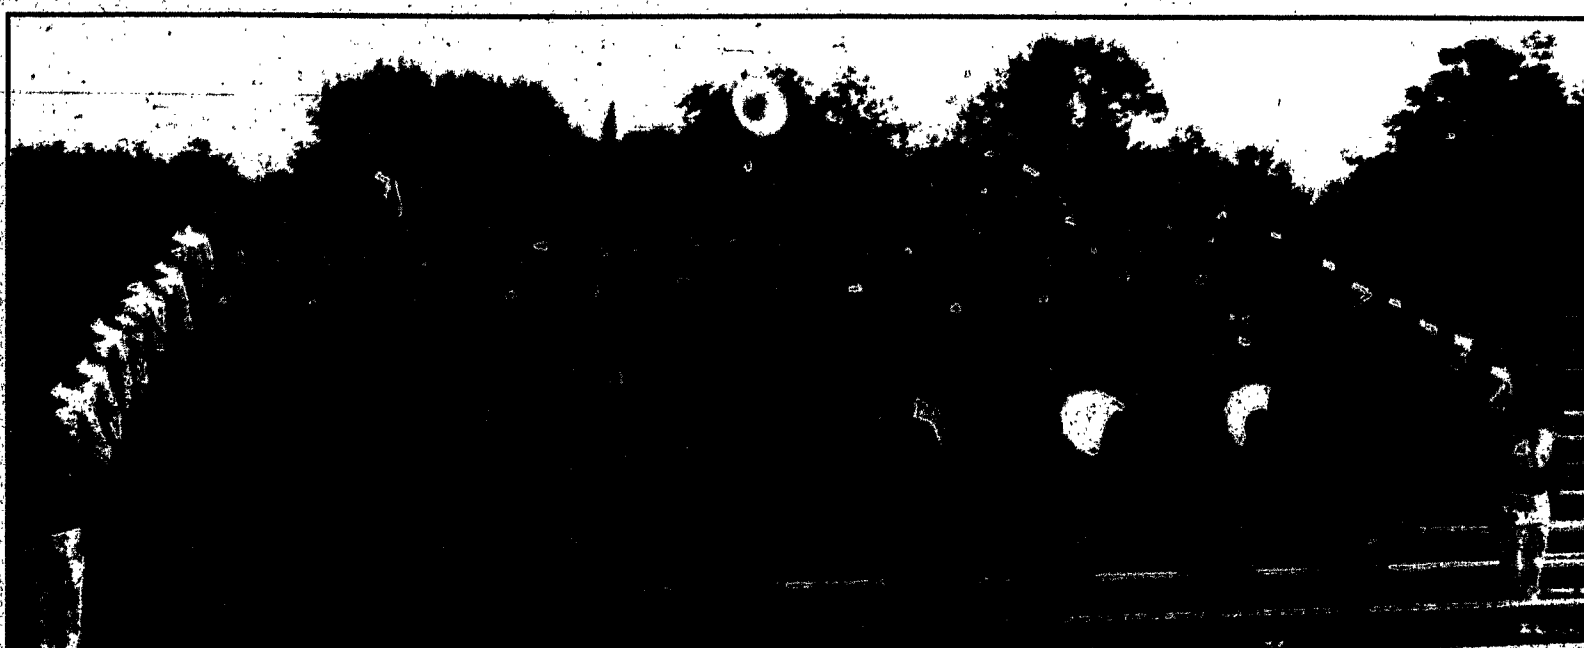

Once again, it is this Agency's goal to keep Hancock County participating and in good standing with the NFIP. If you should need assistance, please contact Mr. Durrin at 770.220.5428 or by EMAIL at robert.durrin@dha.gov. Additionally, I invite you to visit FEMA's website at www.fema.gov/nfip where you will find additional information that may be of interest.

Sincerely,

Brad G. Loar, Branch Chief

Bay High Tiger Pride Marching Band brings home the Gold

On Saturday, Oct. 16, The "Tiger Pride" participated in the District Five Marching Band Festival at Gulfport's Milner Stadium. The "Tiger Pride" was one of twelve, out of twenty-four, bands earning an "All-Superior" rating, which is the highest score a band can earn. Immediately following the band's performance, in Gulfport, the band traveled to the campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and competed in the 6th Annual "Gold Medal" Marching Band Competition/Festival. The band earned an All-Superior rating at this contest. The Color Guard (flag team) and the Bay High Steppers Dance Team won "Best In Class" out of thirteen bands who chose to compete for "Best In Class" caption. We were all so excited, at this point, as all of the ratings for our band's division, had been announced to a capacity crowd of three thousand people. The crowning blow of excitement came when the announcer stated that the Bay High Band won overall, "Best In Class" for our division!" This rating is determined by the highest overall, combined, scores of the three band judges. Band Director Catchie Crider contributes the band's success to all of members of the "Tiger Pride" Marching Band who, during this marching season, have demonstrated that hard work, determination, dedication, and true pride as individuals and as a marching unit does pay off eventually. "I thank our band staff," Crider said, including "John Barrilleaux, Assistant Band Director/Bay-Waveland Middle School Director, Natalie Skinner, Dance Team Instructor and Anna Coggin, Guard Instructor for all of their hard work, great ideas and for their enthusiasm which was required in creating our 2004 marching show, 'Sounds of Summer.' "I feel that one of the reasons our band gets along so well with each other, is because the students see that our staff truly care for each other, our students, our parents and we all work so well together. This is, extremely important, as we all spend so time together, especially, during marching season."

The band wishes to thank the following people who contributed to the band's enormous success: Carl Major, former Bay High graduate and star percussionist, who is now director of bands at T.L. Miller High School in Brewton, Alabama. Major has written the band's marching coordinates for the past three years. Casey Caviness, Long Beach Band Director, who wrote and taught the percussion feature, Eric Gray (former Bay High Percussionist) and Keith Anselmo who assisted with our drum line, at no charge, and Trudy Snodgrass who gave her time, so freely, to instruct our brand new rifle team. Crider also extended congratulations to Superintendent Dr. Kim Stasny, the Bay-Waveland Schools District Board of Trustees and Syd DeFraitas for his colorful and exciting introductions at football games.

Since the band earned an All-Superior rating at the District Five Marching Contest, the "Tiger Pride" has been invited to compete in the first-time ever State Marching Championship, sponsored by the Mississippi H.S. Activities Association and Mississippi Band Masters Association. The band will be competing with 16, other 4A, bands who earned an All-Superior rating at their district marching contests, on October 16th. This competition will be held at Pearl High School, on Oct. 30. Bay High performs at 7:30 p.m.

DuPont -- chlorine gas

Ethridge, until they figured out what was happening and shut down the operations. A little under 50 pounds of chlorine was released, Ethridge said. Luckily the wind was mild and out of the northeast, said Ethridge, holding the spill on-site.

A miscommunication between the emergency vehicle and the hospital is what he thinks may have caused the hospital emergency room to shut down when the employees were brought in, said DuPont's James Foster. Foster said he thought the hospital may have interpreted the emergency workers to say they were bringing in people with chlorine contamination, rather than chlorine inhalation.

But a public relations employee at Garden Park said the hospital was just following standard policy, when staff members are not certain of the type of emergency that will be coming into the hospital. Once determined, the emergency room was reopened. Foster said police were also called to the scene.

Chief Pat Sullivan of the Gulfport Fire Department confirmed that his department was called to the emergency room, but declined any further comment.

The hospital could not comment on the condition of the four employees taken to Garden Park, but Nichols said it was her understanding that one would be released around lunch time Friday, and the other three would be released before the end of the day.

"Until today we have had 121 days without an incident," said Nichols.

Nichols said the community was not notified because no gas left the plant site. Ethridge said an investigation will be conducted by MDEQ engineer Rick Sumrall to determine the cause of the accident and to determine if it could have been prevented.

Astronaut candidates at Stennis

Members of NASA's 2004 astronaut candidate class view a Space Shuttle Main Engine test today at Stennis Space Center (SSC). The candidates are touring NASA's 10 centers to become familiar with ongoing research and exploration programs at each site. NASA's group of astronaut candidates includes three classroom teachers, military pilots, engineers and scientists, as well as three astronauts from the Japan Aerospace Exploration Agency. All Space Shuttle Main Engines are tested and proven flight-worthy at SSC in South Mississippi.

was in progress at the time. Garcia briefly got out of his truck. As he got back in, someone fired into the cab of his truck, striking him once. The bullet pierced his lungs, exited through the left side of his chest, and struck Fowler, who escaped on foot. Several shots were fired at Fowler as he fled the scene.

No murder weapon was recovered, and many of the witnesses for both the state and the defense admitted that they had been drinking heavily for most of the day.

Rachel Vaughn, Rayfield Vaughn's sister, said that she was greatly relieved by the verdict.

"I just feel that if the killer's out there, I feel sorry for (Garcia's) family. My heart goes out to them. But I knew my brother was innocent."

Harry Ward, Vaughn's attorney, said he felt the verdict was appropriate.

"Naturally, I'm very pleased with the outcome of the case," he said.

Assistant District Attorney Chris Schmidt said he had hoped for a different outcome.

"We respect the jury's verdict, but we obviously disagree with it. We're of course disappointed for the family. The case was well investigated by the Waveland P.D. We thought there were more people out there who knew things about the case, but were scared to come forward. It's a sad commentary on the situation, and it truly is a tragedy."

During the trial, several witnesses testified that there had been a second shooter, or identified another gunman entirely. One witness, Gina Lacoste, testified that another individual, Richie Holder, admitted to her that he shot Garcia and Fowler.

Schmidt said that while Vaughn cannot be tried again under the Double Jeopardy law, it was possible that the investigation could continue with regards to looking for another shooter.

"If something else comes up, we will look into it."

Garcia's mother, Angela Orama, was visibly upset when the verdict was read.

"I cannot believe they did not find (Vaughn) guilty. They had enough evidence to place him there with a nine millimeter that killed my son. I can't believe this. I feel like I'm in the twilight zone."

Flood -- insurance in danger

NIFP, not just in Hancock County.

Right now the areas in non-compliance are the county's responsibility. However, Durrin said, if pending annexations are finalized, then non-compliant areas incorporated into city boundaries would become the city's responsibility and affect the city's flood insurance ratings. Right now, we are just looking at the county, said Durrin.

When flood insurance becomes unavailable, those residents living in areas that require such insurance are in danger of losing loans on their property. Lenders are within their rights to recall such loans, Durrin said.

If a house is paid for and not subject to loan regulations, the owner will likely be unable to sell the property, because potential buyers cannot secure loans without the availability of flood insurance. Also in such an area, disaster relief, such as the assistance offered by FEMA during Hurricanes Isidore and Lily, may be severely limited.

"It's serious," said building official Mickey Lagasse. "But we have written a plan and are working on it. We intend to address the issues mentioned in the letter."

Lagasse was referring to a letter sent to the Board of Supervisors from FEMA outlining particular problems within the county and the consequences of inaction to correct the problems. The letter appears in full in a separate, full-page ad, in today's paper.

The main problems are living quarters that are below base flood elevation, said Lagasse, such as bathrooms, and other enclosed areas. The only enclosures allowed below base flood elevation are limited storage areas and parking areas.

Flood areas must be inspected every two years by federal law, Lagasse said, and the areas to be inspected include a percentage of policy holders from each representative agency selected at random. Property selected will include all areas of the county.

Hancock County is not even in minimum compliance in many areas, said Lagasse. The county has about 250 repetitive loss properties with some collecting as much as $200,000 or more in federal aid or insurance claims. About 15 properties have collected $80,000 or more in federal aid or insurance claims. About 3,413 flood insurance policies are in effect in the county.

The whole county stands to lose in a big way if it is not brought into compliance, said Lagasse, in the way of flood insurance, loans and mortgages, federal grant and loans and mitigation dollars.

The permit office will be hosting a series of informational hearings starting in November, said Lagasse. The hearings will be held at the Hancock County Civic Center and the number of meetings will be based on the interest that residents show. Representatives from MEMA and FEMA will be available to answer questions.

On November 4 a hearing outlining new flood plain regulations that the county will be required to adopt will be held at the Hancock County Court House at 4:15 p.m. Times and dates of other meetings will be announced at a later date.

Views From a Front Porch

(My son is in Afghanistan, his fourth tour in the general area. He has made many friends there and in Iraq who he corresponds with on a regular basis by e-mail. The following was e-mailed to him from a US Institute for Peace officer directly after the recent Green Zone bombing. I've shortened it considerably. What I wish to show by using this person's account is the turmoil that the people over there are going through each day.)

We heard the bang yesterday, louder than some but not the loudest, so we weren't unduly disturbed. Per usual, I asked all the staff to move to our one room that doesn't have windows, we explained to our visitors that we like to have everyone move away from windows since the booms tend to come in twos or threes. We crowded into the foyer and closed the doors, and continued our discussions. We heard the second boom, as expected, and waited about 10 minutes to make sure that was the end of it.

We went back to work. What else can you do? There's lots of booms and rumors fly for a while afterwards; usually you don't actually learn what really happened 'til the intel reports the next morning, if at all, so you just go on about your business. It wasn't for a couple hours that we started getting a sense that this was something different - then Sajjad (called and) said that he'd heard that a bomb went off at the little street market that sells tacky souvenirs.

At this point we started to worry. That little market is just a line of open stands along a blocked off street. If a bomb went off there, there'd be a lot of casualties. The staff stayed at the office during lunch figuring out (what roads out of the green zone would and would not be blocked). Afterward, they headed home (for the start of the Ramadan holy days). Humam stayed to finish their pay so that he could meet up with them and make sure they had

VFW, Ladies Auxiliary offers youth scholarships

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary is proud to announce they have three premier youth scholarship programs. The first scholarship program is the Voice of Democracy. Open to students in the 9th through 12th grades and properly enrolled in a public, private, parochial high school or a home schooled in the United States.

It provides more than $25,000 annually in awards and scholarships. This program gives students a chance to extol the virtues of democracy and experiment with the technologies of radio broadcasting. Our premier VOD Program offers a powerful experience for students. It provides an opportunity for amazing financial assistance at the Local, District, State and National levels.

Thousands of Dollars are available to help fund the educations of these special young people. Each Department's First Place winner is automatically a National Winner and will receive a National Scholarship, plus a trip to Washington, D.C. First place National winner wins a $25,000 scholarship.

VOD's format requires contestants to write and record a 3 to 5 minute essay on audio cassette or CD based on that year's theme. Each year's theme is based on some aspect of democracy. This year is "Celebrating Our Veterans' Service". All entries must be submitted through your high school or directly to a VFW Post by November 1, 2004.

The second scholarship program is the Patriot's Pen and is available to 6th, 7th and 8th grade students. Students must be enrolled in public, private, parochial schools, or home schooled. The National Essay contest has been designed to give students the opportunity to creatively voice their opinions on the contest theme while improving their writing skills.

This year's theme is, "What Service To Our Country Means To Me." All entries must be typewritten in English and can not be less than 300 or greater than 400 words in length. The deadline for the Patriot's Pen is November 1, 2004. Students will have the opportunity to compete for many awards and prizes.

The State winner will advance to National and compete for a top award of a $10,000 Savings Bond.

The third premier program is Patriotic Art. This program is designed to encourage 9th - 12th grade students to creatively express their patriotism through art. The art must be on paper or canvas. Water color, pencil, pastel charcoal, tempera, crayon, acrylic, pen and ink, or oil may be used. Digital art may be used but must be on paper or canvas. The art should be no smaller than 8"x10" and no larger than 18"x24".

If you use the American Flag in your entry, it must conform to the Federal Flag Code as far as color, number of stars and stripes and other pertinent rules of the code. Each entry will be judged on the originality of concept, presentation, and patriotism expressed. Students must be properly enrolled in a public, private, parochial or home school program. They must attend school in the same state as the sponsoring Ladies Auxiliary.

The State winner will advance to National with a top award of $10,000. Deadline is March 29, 2005.

For more information contact your local VFW Post, or call Carolyn Verucchi, 601-442-7668, or log on to www.vfw.org or www.msvfw.com for more information.

Fellowship of the Rings

The St. Stanislaus College Senior Class of 2005

St. Stanislaus College holds Sr. Ring Mass and Ceremony

St. Stanislaus College held its Senior Ring Mass and Ceremony on Monday, September 13, 2004, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal.

The Liturgical celebrant was Father Dennis Carver, a 1970 SSC alumnus and Pastor of St. Paul's Parish in Pass Christian. The evening ceremony included celebration of the Eucharist and the blessing and reception of senior class rings.

In his address to the seniors, Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal, said that "The ring, given and received with much love and respect, is a rich symbol of commitment and unity between the giver and the receiver. We, the faculty and staff of St. Stanislaus, along with your parents, confer this ring on you, the members of the Senior Class of 2005."

The rings were distributed by Brother Ronald Talbot, SC, President; Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal; Mrs. Susan Estrade, Assistant Principal for Supervision and Activities; Mr. Jordan Roy, Academic Assistant Principal; Mr. Paul Verlander, Assistant Principal for Discipline and Attendance; and Mr. Mick Quinlan, Director of Residency.

McCarty, Singletary wed in Picayune

Greta Gayle McCarty and Jeremiah James Singletary were united in Christian marriage on June 26, 2004, in an afternoon candlelit ceremony at Roseland Park Baptist Church, Picayune, Mississippi.

The bride is the daughter of Samuel Dale and Linda McCarty of Picayune. She is the granddaughter of Hilda Seal and the late Lee Roy Seal of Picayune, and Sarah McCarty and the late Clifford McCarty of Picayune.

The groom is the son of James and Deborah Singletary of Bay St. Louis. He is the grandson of Louis and Catherine Arceneaux, Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Daniel Young officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and Rev. John Brock presented a special message during the ceremony. Wedding coordinator was Mrs. JoAnn Woods.

Guests were greeted in the foyer by program attendant Mrs. Candace Dyess of Carriere. The quest table was accented with a floral arrangement of pink daisies and a framed wedding invitation. Pink floral wreaths accented each of the church's double doors.

The sanctuary was beautiful with candles, including one large arch altar candelabra, two tree candelabras on either side, and the unity candle candelabra. Each candelabra was beautifully decorated with cascading shades of pink roses entwined with greenery. Green potted sensations adorned the altar steps and baptistry. Candles amidst greenery accented each window. An aisle runner sprinkled with pink rose petals graced the aisle, and each pew was gracefully draped with tulle complemented with large, crystal accented tulle bows.

Mrs. Mary Counts, former piano teacher of the bride, was the pianist for the ceremony. She presented a lovely prelude consisting of the bride's favorite classical pieces. Music selections for the ceremony included "Air" for the lighting of the candles, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the seating of the mothers, and "Canon in D" for the bridesmaids and groomsmen processional. Organ pieces, performed by Mrs. Katherine Brock, included "Bridal Chorus" for the bride's processional and "Wedding March" for the recessional. The bride's father, Samuel Dale McCarty, sang "There is Love" during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah James Singletary

As a special surprise to the groom, the bride recorded a song of her singing "I Will Be Here" that was played during the lighting of the unity candle.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was ushered to the altar by her father. She chose a strapless, ballroom style gown with full layers of white tulle accented with pearls and crystals and a fitted cuffed satin bodice embellished with beading. She wore a double tiered, elbow-length veil accented with pearls and crystals with a crystal spray tiara. To complement her ensemble, the bride wore a crystal tiered necklace and her grandmother's pearl earrings. The bride carried a large bouquet of dark pink and red roses hand tied with dark rose organza.

Miss Wendy McCarty of Picayune, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Grace Templet of Carriere, Mrs. Mary Kristina Cody of Oxford, Mrs. Danielle Spears of Gulfport, and Miss Candace Arceneaux of Bay St. Louis, sister of the groom. The attendants wore floor-length dresses of berry satin complemented with chiffon wraps. Each carried a hand tied bouquet of white Lisianthus. The maid of honor's bouquet also included several blush pink roses. The flower girl, Miss Haile Dyess, wore a dress matching the bride's gown.

the guests. They then traveled by limousine to the wedding reception held at the Diamondhead Country Club banquet room. The round tables were beautifully decorated with arrangements of pink gerber daisies and glass votives filled with pink tinted water with silver heart floating candles.

The bride's table was elegant with a four-tiered wedding cake beautifully overflowing with shades of fresh pink roses separating each tier. The white icing cake offered red velvet, butter cream, and almond flavors. The cake was encircled with fresh flower petals. Mrs. Elizabeth Pickle of Starkville and Miss Cristy Gilbert of Hattiesburg served the wedding cake.

The groom's table consisted of a chocolate cake shaped as a MSU bulldog surrounded by MSU decoration. Complementing the quest table were childhood picture collages of the bride and groom and a large basket of wedding favors.

On the eve of the wedding the bride and groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at Hide A-Way Lake Lodge. The room was festively decorated in a Hawaiian luau theme.

The bride and groom traveled to New Orleans where they stayed overnight before departing on their honeymoon on the Carnival Conquest for a seven day cruise of the Caribbean. The couple now resides in Gulf Breeze, Florida.

The bride was honored with miscellaneous bridal showers from hostesses at Roseland Park Baptist Church, the Kindergarten department at Lyman Elementary School, and the groom's family. A couple's shower luncheon held at Ruby Tuesday in Gulfport, was also given by the couple's friends.

their cash for Ramadan.

Then I got a call from Kristi, a friend who was working women's issues for the Embassy, a trembling voice saying she was at the US military hospital, she had been in the explosion, couldn't say where over the phone, and that she was hurt, couldn't walk. I kept the tone concerned but matter of fact, but was wondering if she was going to tell me she didn't have legs. "What is hurt, what did the doctors say?" She said she had cuts, and gashes in her legs, and her eardrum had been blown out, but she thought she was ok. "Do you need me to come there?" and got a "no, I'm ok, oh, I'll call you back."

I was getting ready to leave with Humam when Kristi called again, upset, on the verge of tears. The hospital wanted her out. They didn't have enough room for everyone. But she still couldn't walk and didn't have any way to get back to the Embassy. I told her I'd be over to get her, reassuring, this is a safe place, come chill out, relax, we have lots of cookies.

We pulled out. At the first intersection outside our compound, soldiers and humvees in the middle of each of the four roads. The one on my side said I could only turn right. We needed to go left to the hospital. "Sorry ma'am, I can only let you turn right." But that just leads to the north gate? "Well ma'am, I don't know what to say." Then he looked behind him and noticed that the soldier on the other side of the intersection was waving cars exactly in the direction he'd just told me I couldn't go. "Ma'am, I can't let you go straight, but if you just turn right and then turn around, maybe he'll let you." You've got to be kidding. But it worked. I turned right, made a u-turn and was waved politely the way I wanted to go after showing my military ID. Left hand knowing what the right was doing? They were all of 10 feet away from each other.

After that there was a checkpoint every 50 yards. My military ID got us through each time. Most of the checkpoints told me I couldn't go through but a calm explanation of where I was going and the badge with a picture of me in uniform reassured them.

As I neared the hospital the tanks blocking the road absolutely refused to let my car in, even though I explained that I was picking someone up who couldn't walk. I had kept every conversation with the soldiers in measured tones, relaxed, clear, no pressure, explain my position, take their guidance. This kept everything below the anxiety level that was at an all time high among the soldiers. The message I wanted them to get was "this person is not a threat, wave her through." So I told them I would park next to them, walk in to the hospital, and bring my friend out. I got about 10 feet each time, went through the same spiel, and waved another 10 feet.

Finally made my way into the hospital where Kristi was wheeled out by her Iraqi friend. She was in bloodstained scrubs, head wrapped in a bandage, cuts and dried blood all over her face and arms. I launched immediately into relaxed mode for her, smiling, all's well, funny thing happened on the way to the combat hospital. I wanted her to focus on being safe, being in one piece without making too big a deal about it, low key, play up the relief that everything's ok now. Boy those soldiers are going to feel guilty that they didn't let me pull my car up, make sure you look extra pathetic when you go by them - is this your bag [the one with the blood all over it]? Have we got everything, great, let's just get you out to the car and we'll take you home and get you all settled. Someone killed? Don't worry, we can talk about that when we get home, let's just get you home now, get you comfortable.

(Her) friend pushed the wheelchair out, as the soldiers and hospital staff watched. There weren't any ramps so as we rolled through the hospital gate, Kristi had to stand up balanced between me and a soldier while her friend lifted the wheelchair over the curbs. Getting her in and out of it without use of her legs was difficult. Repeated several times then we were on the road, navigating between the armored vehicles until we reached my car. The soldiers looked a little guilty when they saw her, but not enough to let us drive the short way past the hospital.

So we went back through the checkpoints choked with traffic as all the Iraqi workers were trying to leave the zone for Ramadan. I started driving around the jams, holding my badge up so that the soldiers would see. I stopped when I reached the tanks and got out with badge in the air, explaining that I was taking someone home from the hospital. Kristi's bandages and bloody face got us through in no time.

We drove by the Green Zone Cafe, the site of the 2nd bomb, where Kristi had been. She asked me to slow down. The place was gone. Just twisted metal, the whole thing had been blown away. I hadn't even noticed it on my way out, trying to navigate the maze of checkpoints.

We made it home and got her settled on the couch. She started talking, they had gone to the Green Zone Cafe for lunch, they knew it was risky but wanted a last outing before she left. The group split up, she and a friend eating lunch the rest to the bazaar to shop. There was a boom down the street, there are always booms down the street, they kept eating. Then there was a pop, just a pop and she was on the floor, blown from her seat, scrambling for her bag, her stuff strewn around. Couldn't find her friend who was blown away from her. Then he appeared and dragged her outside and stuffed her into a car going to the hospital.

She probably lucked out that she was in the first wave of the casualties that showed up, got immediate if chaotic attention. The hospital staff were wonderful, they took great care of her but there were arguments around her, where's her number, is she on the board? Move her over there. Who's next? They cut off her clothes but were careful to keep her covered, put her in blue scrubs, cleaned all the wounds ("the legs were the hardest, they had to scrape away the dirt") and gave her morphine. Asking her to leave so they could make more room for the serious cases, but she has nowhere to go. (An Iraqi) told her that her friends at the bazaar had been killed and then I arrived.

She finishes the story (on the couch), eats the spaghetti so that she can take her next pill. She asks to turn on the TV, not much is being reported yet, CNN is focusing on sports news and Asia. Every now and then a 10 second report about bombs in the green zone. She's watching, getting quieter. "We shouldn't have been there, the RSO (Regional Security Office) warned us not to - but they didn't prohibit it. (My friends) were shopping for me, for gifts for my going away party."

After dark, Kristi pulled herself to the porch on her crutches to smoke a cigarette. The impossibly bright security light at the military compound across the pond made rippling reflections on the wall. (It's our continuous complaint to wish they'd turn off their light so we can enjoy our evenings without the glare. How petty can we be?) We talk about responsibility and guilt; these things are going to hurt more, like everything else, when the morphine wears off. She suddenly registers that the hospital had asked her when her last tetanus shot was. She had been confused; it seemed like such a mundane question. She hadn't understood the connection to the rusty nails that are reported to be part of the bomb, and the flying debris. It made sense now.

It's going to be a hard day, I think.

Surreys by the Bay

Surreys By The Bay is located in Olde Towne Bay St. Louis at 111-D Main Street. The charming surreys are designed to resemble the antique Model T automobile and are available for hourly rental. The surreys can accommodate groups of 2 to 8 per surrey. You can even hail a chauffeured surrey from the surrey station to anywhere in town or you may call ahead for reservations to be picked up and shuttled to your destination. Surreys are available for any special occasion such as birthday parties, parades, even Halloween trick or treating or simply for relaxing and shopping. The fun is as limitless as your own imagination.

Imagine a leisurely day of pedaling along the 2 mile scenic walkway while enjoying the beauty and breeze of the Bay. Create your own fun adventure or choose from one of the Surreys by the Bay Unique Soirees. For example, The Moonlight Ride is a 2 hour surrey sport rental with a "wine", cheese and fruit picnic basket. The Family Outing is a 2 hour surrey bus rental which includes a picnic basket lunch and vintage games to enjoy together. The Tea in Town soiree will allow you to enjoy tea at one of Bay St. Louis' unique restaurants by arriving in a chauffeur driven surrey.

This Halloween reserve a decorated surrey for your trick or treating fun or call to inquire about how Ichabod Crane can chauffeur you. Reservations are required by calling (228) 222-0443. A unique wonderful and memorable time awaits you at Surreys by the Bay.

Don't Run Down Steps

One day as a young boy, I was on my way to church when, knowing I was already late for the service, I tried to rush. I remember that I was running down some steps in front of my home when I fell and bruised myself in several places. I recall thinking, "Here I am going to church, so why would God let me fall down and hurt myself?" I was blaming God for my clumsiness. And although blaming God when things go wrong may seem absurd, it's not too surprising in a day and age when we may fail to accept responsibility for our own actions, often blaming others for our shortcomings instead. And, when a disastrous situation comes along that can't be blamed on some individual, we can always blame God. However, a more beneficial approach is knowing that God always loves us, and even when things don't go as we believe they should, realizing that perhaps He is trying to teach us a lesson. I only fell down those steps once, and I am now aware that when descending stairs I should go one step at a time and without running. Throughout our lives, we are subject to many learning experiences, and God's gentleness in dealing with us should always be appreciated.

The Lord is good; He protects His people in times of trouble; He takes care of those who turn to Him.

The tomb of the unknown slave

Flanked by his liturgist, Deacon Ronald Guidry, and Mayor C. Ray Nagin, Archbishop Alfred Hughes will bless and dedicate the Tomb of the Unknown Slave on October 30, 2004. He will bless outside marine chains welded together to form a fallen cross, and a half dozen metal grave crosses scattered around the St. Augustine Church garden area.

A commemorative bronze plaque affixed to the northeast wall of St. Augustine Church tells the story of the genesis of the Tomb of the Unknown Slave.

"We, the Faith Community of St. Augustine Catholic Church, dedicate this shrine consisting of grave crosses, chains and shackles to the memory of the nameless, faceless, furtive Africans who met an untimely death in Faubourg Treme.

The Tomb of the Unknown Slave is commemorated here in this garden plot of St. Augustine Church, the only parish in the United States whose free people of color bought two outer rows of pews exclusively for slaves to use for worship.

This St. Augustine/Treme shrine honors all slaves buried throughout the United States and those slaves in particular who lie beneath the ground of Treme in unmarked, unknown graves. There is no doubt that the campus of St. Augustine Church sits astride the blood, sweat, tears and some of the mortal remains of unknown slaves from Africa and local American Indian slaves who either met with fatal treachery, and were therefore buried quickly and secretly, or were buried hastily and at random because of yellow fever and other plagues. Even now, some Treme locals have childhood memories of salvage/restoration workers unearthing various human bones, sometimes in concentrated areas such as wells. In other words, The Tomb of the Unknown Slave is a constant reminder that we are walking on holy ground. Thus, we cannot consecrate this tomb, because it is already consecrated by many slaves, inglorious deaths bereft of any acknowledgment, dignity or respect, but ultimately glorious by their blood, sweat, tears, faith, prayers and deep worship of our Creator."

Analogous to The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington, Virginia, The Tomb of the Unknown Slave will be an enduring witness to all slaves of all times, especially to those in this country who were given no respect nor recognition in life or in death.

Ironically, the African slaves entered this country via the Atlantic Ocean, crossing over on ghastly-crowded slavers which transported them like cattle. Anthropologists instruct us that the Africans of more than 35,000 years ago made their way from northeast Africa through the Middle East, to northeast Siberia where they remained for thousands of years.

By the time they left Asia, they had morphed and evolved into the people we know as the American Indians, and, former Africans as they were, entered this country via the Bering Sound. So, 35,000 years later, Africans were brought here via the Atlantic Ocean.

Early, therefore, African peoples arrived in this country first as former Africans via the Pacific Ocean, then tens of thousands of years later as current Africans via the Atlantic Ocean. There could hardly be a greater irony in the history of humankind.

The Tomb of the Unknown Slave likewise commemorates the tens of millions of slaves lost by suicide, murder, dysentery and a horrendous array of communicable diseases which ravaged the sardine-packed victims of the dreaded Middle Passage.

Horrible beyond words, the most unnerving aspect of the statistics of the feared Middle Passage is that, even to this day, scholars wrestle with a reasonable guestimate of the tens of millions of kidnapped Africans who perished during the Middle Passage.

This segment of African slaves, who were lost during the terrors of the rending Middle Passage, is clearly by many millions the largest portion of the slaves whose graves are unknown due to the worst of conditions.

This was the first and the worst Holocaust.

Picture those slaves lost to sharks by choosing death over enslavement, leaping into the ocean. Again, picture those countless slaves during the Middle Passage, who were either murdered or killed by deadly diseases, whose bodies were thrown overboard to the swarms of sharks, cruising around in eager anticipation of bounteous meals.

The American Indians, who evolved from migratory Africans, have no true form of music, but only drumming and chants without melodies. One is left to conclude that the drumming was brought along with them throughout their migration and morphing.

In stark contrast, the current Africans brought here as slaves came indeed with their drumming, but also with their melodious chants, their elaborate dancing in large, concentric circles, and their strong oral tradition kept through fascinating storytelling.

All this set the stage for Congo Square, the historic meeting place for merchandising, feasting, socializing, drumming, singing, dancing and storytelling situated in New Orleans, famed Faubourg Treme on the former sacred festival grounds of the Houma, Choctaw, Cherokee, Chickasaw and many other Indian tribes.

It was there at Congo Square that the African slaves, fresh out of church services on Sunday afternoons, married the Bible stories to the African music, drumming and dancing. Thus, the poignant Negro Spirituals, the holy blues, were born and quickly morphed into the secular blues and jazz.

Jesus Christ was the single greatest validation of slaves in all of history, as reported to us by Paul in his letter to the Philippians where he sings the praises of Christ Jesus:

"Who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God something to be grasped. Rather, he emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, coming in human likeness." (Philippians 2:6-7)

Without validating the ugly, immoral practice of slavery, Jesus Christ exemplified in his origins, life and death a love so awesome for us human beings that he gladly demoted himself from Ruler of the universe to the unwanted, spurned status of a slave. Above all, he assures us that he will raise all the faithful dead, known and unknown, to eternal life.

Scripture Says...

By Ed Young

Cain's evil still has repercussions

Here is an account of God dealing with Adam and Eve's oldest son, Cain, after he murdered his brother, Able. The famous historian, Josephus writes: "God did cast him, together with his wife, out of that land. And when he was afraid that in wandering about he would fall among wild beasts, and by that means perish, God bid him not to entertain such a melancholy suspicion, and to go over the earth without fear of what mischief he might suffer from wild beasts. And setting a mark upon him, that he might be known, He commanded him to depart."

And when Cain had traveled over many countries, he with his wife, came to a city named

Nod, and he settled his abode, where he also had children. However, he did not accept his punishment in order to make amends, but instead increased his wickedness; for he only aimed to procure everything that was for his own bodily pleasure, though it obliged him to be injurious to his neighbors.

Josephus had much more to say about Cain, but space here won't allow it. However, briefly, he said that God cursed Cain's prosperity for seven generations. Cain left a mark on history that has affected the life of men even unto today.

The city of Nod was in present day Iraq. (Ref. Genesis chap. 4, vs. 1-24)

Luther and justification

If you are like other folks, you are getting ready for Halloween. You may have your windows decorated. You no doubt have a supply of candy to give to neighborhood children. But October 31st should be remembered for a far more important reason. On that day, almost five hundred years ago, in the year 1517, Martin Luther invited debate on ninety-five different statements. He nailed them to a church door in Wittenberg, Germany. Because of the debate, what we know as the Protestant Reformation was born. Martin Luther was a deeply religious man. He was concerned about the salvation of his soul. He became a monk. With all his might Luther tried to earn his salvation by his good works. He was as people today, who are always ready to lend a helping hand. Then they say, "Well, if I don't get to heaven, it won't be because I didn't try." Then Martin Luther found from experience that "All have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). He did not know how to escape the heavy burden of guilt he felt. Then he began to read the book of Romans in the Bible. Romans 1:17 gave Luther his answer: "The just shall live by faith." Luther had tried to earn his salvation by his good works. Now he realized that people are not saved by their works. People are saved through faith in Jesus Christ. What about you my friend? Have you learned this lesson? Or are you still clinging to your good works as Martin Luther did? Don't trust in yourself to get to heaven. Trust in Jesus Christ. Eighty-one couples renew vows

BY SHIRLEY
HENDERSON
Gulf Pine Catholic
Newspaper

Eighty-one couples, representing 3,374 years of married life, gathered at the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary Cathedral, Oct. 3, for the Diocese of Biloxi's Wedding Anniversary Mass.

Most Reverend Thomas Rodi, Bishop of Biloxi, celebrated the liturgy and congratulated the couples.

"Your marriage enriches your entire family and the family of God," he told the couples in his homily. "Your marriage is a witness to live your commitment - to help each other to obtain salvation and to obtain eternal life."

"You celebrate the love of God. Your love and commitment reflect what you all have gone through - that through the good times and the struggles, God was there."

"This anniversary celebration is a celebration of two people as a couple and the commitment you have made in Christ's name, the love and relationship that has grown and deepened and become even richer through the years," he said.

Following the bishop's homily, the couples renewed their marriage covenant.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Thibodeaux, the longest-married couple, wed sixty-five years ago, on April 10, 1939, in Gulfport. Other couples at the Mass who have been married over six decades included: 63 years, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wade; 62 years, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Machen and Warren and Lorraine Norton; and 61 years, Raymond F. and Grace W. Prosser.

Oct. 27 Defense of Marriage Rally

Area Christian churches of various denominations are rallying together on Wednesday, Oct. 27, to show their united support of traditional marriage (the union of one man and one woman).

The rally will be held from 7-8:30 p.m. at Hancock County Arena, 4184 Kiln-DeLisle Rd., Kiln, MS. Sponsor of the event is the Hancock County Ministerial Alliance, a group made up of pastors from Christian churches throughout Hancock County.

"We as the body of Christ, are working vigorously to pass the current amendment to our state constitution," said the Rev. Jeb Banashak, president of the ministerial alliance. "That amendment, which goes before Mississippi voters on Nov. 2, will define marriage exclusively as a union of one man and one woman."

The rally is part of a Grassroots Awakening campaign that area Christian churches have been involved in since this past June. So far, the campaign has gathered more than 2,000 signatures from voters favoring traditional marriage. Blank petitions will be available for signing at the rally. Elected officials have been invited.

Your dimes conquered polio.

Give us a hand with premature birth.

Fifty years ago, Americans helped the March of Dimes fund polio research. Today a new epidemic threatens our babies—premature birth. Each year more than 460,000 are born premature. It's the leading cause of newborn death and many disabilities. Please go online to help the March of Dimes raise research funds. Together we can find the answers that will save premature babies.

Christopher Reeve directed A&E drama he could relate to

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

It was an emotional tale to begin with, but it's wrapped up in that much more emotion now.

In what turned out to be his final project before his death on Oct. 10, Christopher Reeve definitely was suited to call the shots for "The Brooke Ellison Story," a true A&E Network drama premiering Monday, Oct. 25.

Paralyzed in a 1995 equestrian accident, Reeve had the appropriate insight to guide the film about a Stony Brook, N.Y., girl left quadriplegic after being hit by a car in 1990. Not only did Brooke beat the odds by surviving, she ultimately attained her goal of graduating from Harvard University magna cum laude, no less.

Now studying for a Ph.D. in political psychology, Brooke is played in most of the movie by Lacey Chabert ("Party of Five"), although Vanessa Marano has the part in earlier scenes. Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio stars as Jean Ellison, who stayed by her daughter's side throughout Brooke's ordeal and beyond. John Slattery ("Jack & Bobby") portrays family patriarch Ed.

Through his eponymous foundation, Reeve promoted paralysis-curing efforts. He maintained his work on "The Brooke Ellison Story" mattered just as much to him. "It was very important to me, after being in film and theater for 35 years, not to give it all up just to be an advocate against paralysis - although, of course, I care very much about that," he said. "Before the injury, I always said I wanted to direct. Then I'd get an acting project and my ego would get the better of me and I'd get in front of the camera."

"The accident forced me to take up something I really wanted to do for years," Reeve added. "Whether it's a film project or anything else, I can only do things I actually care about. Things are too difficult to do, and life's too short and too precious, so I've been very fortunate that wonderful material like Brooke's story has come my way. If we can tell really well one story about what it's like to live with paralysis and have that seen in a dramatic form around the world, that's a worthwhile contribution."

Brooke Ellison agrees. "I really think the movie expresses a degree of candor that might not often be depicted," she says. "It's really refreshing to see the kind of tenderness and dedication that everybody put into it. It was really quite a help to have my entire family be able to come down to New Orleans and see the film (being made) and get to know the cast pretty well."

Lessons of a 'Lost' star

Dominic Monaghan

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

In the ABC adventure drama "Lost," Dominic Monaghan plays Charlie, a drug-addicted rock musician stranded with a plane load of fellow unfortunates on a tropical island. It's his first stab at an American TV series, but he's worked on a couple of projects elsewhere that gave him a good foundation.

Monaghan's first professional job was on the 1996-98 British mystery series "Hetty Wainthropp Presents," which aired here as part of PBS' "Mystery!" series. He played Geoffrey, Hetty's assistant.

"That was a baptism of fire," Monaghan says. "I didn't know what I was doing. The biggest lesson I learned from Patricia was to conserve my energy. She sat me down one day and said, 'You bounce off the walls until four o'clock then you drop, and we have to keep working until seven. You need to take it easy.'"

"At that point, I was 18, it was my first job, I thought it was crazy. But I took that advice, and I heeded it. From then on, in my downtime, I tended to read or sleep."

Those lessons are now coming in handy for Monaghan. "American television is certainly a lot more dynamic than English television. It's a lot more fast-paced. I'm OK with a work schedule like that. We worked pretty hard on "Rings."

Between "Hetty" and "Lost," Monaghan headed to New Zealand for the marathon filming of the "Lord of the Rings" trilogy, in which he played hobbit Merry.

"I can take quite a lot of what comes to me now because of what I went through on that job," Monaghan says. "As long as I have somewhere I can get horizontal at lunchtime, I don't need anything."

Birthplace: Berlin, Germany, on Dec. 8, 1976, making him a Sagittarius. Monaghan lived there for 12 years before moving with his family to Manchester, England, where he became a huge fan of soccer team Manchester United.

Current home base: Los Angeles, Calif. "I like this town," he says. "Yeah, I do."

TV-watching habits: Monaghan admits to enjoying HBO's "The Sopranos," "Six Feet Under" and "Oz," and FX's "Nip/Tuck." He also tunes in to Discovery Channel, National Geographic Channel, History Channel and Animal Planet, where he checks out "Animal Cops: Detroit," "The Crocodile Hunter" and "Venom ER."

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Oct. 24 through Oct. 30, 2004
Aries (March 21 - April 20)

The focus is on your emotional well-being at this time. There could be a tendency to explode over minor problems.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

Keep certain feelings under wraps, and you'll be able to better describe them to partners at a later time.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Friends are reaching out to you, but you might be too busy for them. Decide what in your life is a priority.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

A job offer might feel right, but do your research before accepting. Learning from past mistakes is key.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

The desire to travel keeps you daydreaming. Why not find a way to bring that dream to life?

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

You aren't always right, so it won't help you to be impulsive and then ask for forgiveness later. Consult before you make a move.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

You could meet your ideal mate in the near future. Make sure you are available to get to know someone.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Health matters take you by storm, and you need to make some changes in your lifestyle. It's not as hard as you think.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

You might not be challenging yourself creatively, leaving you uninspired in other areas of life. Stretch your limits.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

Sticking close to home will restore your soul. If people are wondering where you are, invite them over.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Communication is going to solve a major annoyance in your life - you just need to admit it to yourself.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

You'll have a desire to accumulate things to display your newfound roots. The wiser decision would be to save your cash.

"NASCAR Racing" Sunday, Oct. 24 (NBC, 1 p.m. ET): Five down, five to go in NASCAR's "Chase for the Nextel Cup," beginning today with the Subway 500 from Martinsville Speedway in Martinsville, Va. At the halfway point, the pretenders in the inaugural 10-driver playoff system have fallen by the wayside, giving way to the likes of Jeff Gordon, who should rack up valuable points here. Gordon is this race's defending champ; in fact, he's won on this track five times in his career.

"NFL Football" Monday, Oct. 25 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): After a 1-3 start, which was preceded by heightened expectations based on last season's 8-8 record, who knows whether Carson Palmer will be the Bengals' starting quarterback when they battle Denver? Cincy coach Marvin Lewis wants to stick with the second-year man, but going two straight games without scoring an offensive touchdown - as the Bengals have done already - may leave Lewis no choice but to hand the reins to Jon Kitna.

"MLB Baseball" Wednesday, Oct. 27 (Fox, 8 p.m. ET): Tonight's Game 4 of the World Series could provide the boost one team needs to go all the way. It did last year for the Florida Marlins, who were trailing the Yankees two games to one before winning the fourth game in dramatic fashion. Florida never lost again en route to its second title. Joe Buck and Tim Lincecum call the action from the home park of the National League champion. Game 5, if necessary, is Thursday.

'Dead' speak to Anne Heche in supernatural new CBS movie

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Anne Heche is no stranger to battling inner demons.

That's a big reason the film and stage actress—who detailed her past travails in her 2001 autobiography "Call Me Crazy"—was attracted to "The Dead Will Tell," an eerie CBS movie airing Sunday, Oct. 24. Heche also co-produced the supernatural drama, based on the work of medium James Van Praagh and focusing on a very modern New Orleans resident (played by Heche) whose engagement ring gives her visions of its previous owner (Leigh Jones).

That woman may have been murdered, prompting the Heche character to launch her own probe, and leading her fiancé (Jonathan LaPaglia, "The District") and others to begin questioning her sanity. Kathleen Quinlan ("Family Law") and David Andrews ("JAG") co-star as her prospective in-laws; Eva Longoria (whose ABC series "Desperate Housewives" airs opposite the movie) and Chris Sarandon also appear. Van Praagh, whose experiences also inspired the 2002 CBS miniseries "Living With the Dead," is credited as an executive producer.

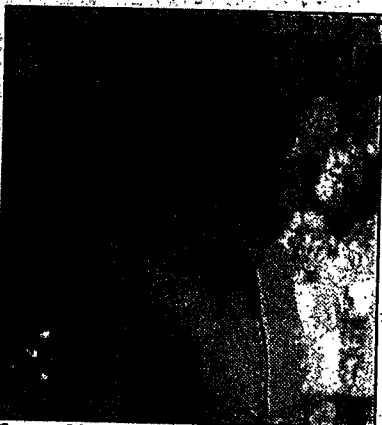

Heche asserts the paranormal world is "not necessarily what the movie is about, even though that's what makes it interesting and scary. To me, it's about the bigger question of where our minds take us and what we choose to follow, especially during an extremely emotional time. It's about what happens to people based on where they are and what they need to deal with, so that they can move to the next place. This woman is asked to marry this man, and up comes all this emotion about her past that she hasn't dealt with. Then this mystery unfolds, then it becomes paranormal. Whether I believe in that, I don't know

...but I do believe people have connections to certain things, especially when they're in highly emotional states. I'm definitely drawn to the complexities of the human mind, and I'm sure that's why this came to me. I'm interested in exploring all levels of consciousness." Thus, Heche was intrigued to meet Van Praagh when he visited the set. "He actually has a cameo in the movie. You can see him if you watch closely."

"The Dead Will Tell" isn't Heche's only TV job these days. She's also a new regular on the Monday-night WB Network series "Everwood," playing the wife and caretaker of an ex-seismologist (Jason Beghe) robbed of most of his communication skills by a stroke. "It's beautifully written," Heche says. "How lucky I am to be a part of such a wonderful show. To work with (series star) Treat Williams is just mind-blowing, but they're all so rich and funny as actors, the kids as well as the adults. It's one of the strongest shows I've seen, so I was proud to be asked to be part of it."

Heche also appreciates developing a role over a longer period than a movie or play affords. "You're taking a different ride as an actress because you don't know what you'll be doing from week to week. I know the full story but I don't know the details, so it's always a surprise. I cannot wait for the next script to come. It's also a matter of figuring out how to have an audience latch on in a different way than they would in a movie. I get to take a calmer approach and let people get comfortable with me, because they're already friends with the other characters on the show. It's really cool."

Recently Emmy-nominated for the Lifetime movie "Gracie's Choice," Heche is pleased to be working in TV again after her recent Broadway run in a revival of "Twentieth Century," which netted her a Tony Award nomination. Before doing feature films like "Donnie

Anne Heche plays a woman experiencing visions of her engagement ring's previous owner—who may have been murdered—in the supernatural suspense movie "The Dead Will Tell" Sunday on CBS.

Brasco," "Volcano," "Six Days, Seven Nights" and the remake of Alfred Hitchcock's "Psycho," Heche won a Daytime Emmy as twins Vicky and Marley on the long-running serial "Another World" (now seen in repeats on SoapNet). She also had a story arc on "Ally McBeal" that she agreed to extend because she enjoyed the process.

"I love that people have forgotten that I was a TV actress, but I also love reminding them," Heche notes. "I would never want to limit myself to any one medium, and I'm very blessed that I get to work in all of them. I had been wanting to do a TV series since having a baby, and I had been talking to Warner Bros. for a few years. I've been really aware of their shows, and talk of my possibly joining 'Everwood' came up about a year ago. It was fun that we were all so excited about it."

Schram, 'Monk' come to parting of ways

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q Why on Earth was Bitty Schram written out of "Monk"? Her chemistry with Tony Shalhoub makes the show! -Pete in Vermont

A No one is talking on the record about why Schram is out of "Monk." (Traylor Howard of "Two Guys and a Girl" joins the show in upcoming episodes as Natalie, a single mom who becomes Adrian's new assistant.)

"Every successful series changes over the course of its life," reads a statement from Jeff Wachtel, USA Network executive vice president. "We were fortunate to have Bitty Schram in our cast for two and a half seasons, and we are thrilled to have Traylor Howard join our cast now."

Schram's management firm, Untitled Entertainment, issued the following statement: "Bitty Schram and USA Network have amicably decided to go their own separate ways. She wishes everyone connected with the show continued success."

Bitty Schram

Someone close to the show whom I happen to trust assures me that my initial suspicion—that Schram was dumped in favor of a younger actress—absolutely is not the case here. But like everyone else, that person declines to discuss the situation further.

While the details are vague, it appears Schram and the show's producers just came to a parting of the ways. For "Monk" fans, Howard definitely has some big shoes to fill.

Q When will the series "The 4400" return? -Liz, Ellicott City, Md.

A "The 4400" originally was intended to be no more than a limited series, but last summer's brief run attracted such blockbuster ratings that USA Network is said to be looking into ordering additional episodes.

That's complicated by some of the corporate shake-ups that have been going on in Hollywood over recent months, as well as the fact that producers of "The 4400" have a lot of actors to try to round up on short notice. If and when I know that the new episodes are moving into actual production, I'll try to note it here.

Galen Gering gets 'Access'

Galen Gering

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

When Galen Gering decided he wanted to be in showbiz, he set his sights on working behind the scenes, so no one was more surprised than the actor when he won the starring role as Luis Lopez-Fitzgerald on NBC's "Passions."

"I was very green," Gering recalls. "The day I graduated from college, I flew out from the University of Miami and started filming the very next day. It was a total whirlwind because I had spent the previous four years working my butt off to be a writer and a filmmaker."

Since then, Gering has been itching to get back to his behind-the-camera aspirations. He co-wrote a script, and now is developing an Internet-based business called ReelAccess.com, a Web site for actors, directors or cinematographers who need a place to show their demo reels.

"There was a demand for it and there was nothing out there," Gering explains. "It alleviates talent having to send their reels around the world. All you have to do is upload the demo to the site, and if there is someone in New York who wants to see it tomorrow, they can. Five years ago, people weren't going to the Net to look at video. Now they are."

As if all that doesn't keep the 33-year-old busy enough, he and wife

Jenna recently purchased a 1927 Spanish-Mediterranean house at the beach, which they plan to restore to its original charm.

Dear Paulette: I have watched "General Hospital" since 1971. Would you please tell me if the person that plays Lois is the same one that played it before? She was married in real life to the actor that plays Ned. Thank you. -Roberta C., Kankakee, Ill.

Dear Reader: Lesli Kay (ex- "As the World Turns") is now playing the role of Lois Cerullo. It was previously played by Rena Sofer, who most recently starred in NBC's short-lived series "Coupling."

Dear Paulette: Can you print the address for "All My Children?" -Katherine, McKinley Park, Ill.

Dear Reader: The address is: "All My Children" c/o ABC Studios, 320 W. 66th Street, New York, NY 10023.

Movie: Old Yeller

One of the greatest stories ever told of a boy and his dog, this 1957 Disney classic is based on the novel by Fred Gipson, who adapted his tale for the screen. In 1860s Texas, young Travis Coates (Tommy Kirk) gets help from an uninvited canine guest in protecting the rest of his family while his father (Fess Parker) is on a cattle drive. The youngster and the animal develop a tight bond. Dorothy McGuire and Chuck Connors also star.

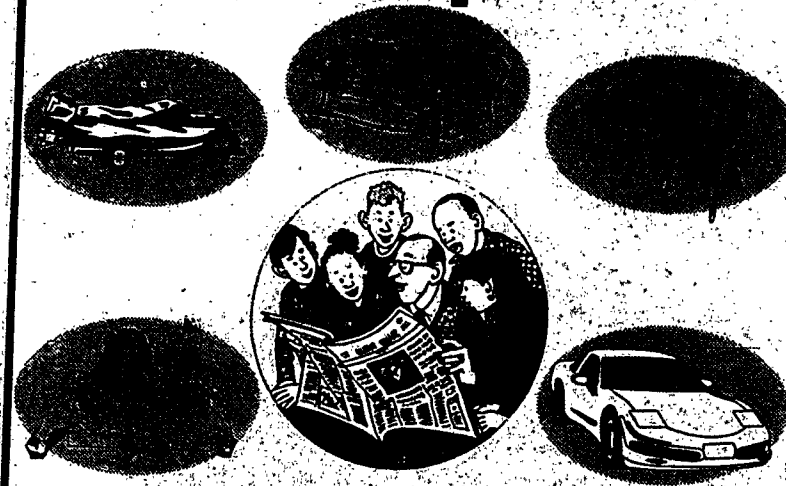

Friday

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: The Canterville Ghost

Based on an Oscar Wilde short story, this 1996 film stars Patrick Stewart as the ghost of Canterville, a deceased, cowardly Englishman cursed eternally to wander. And wander, he does — trying to scare the American family that moved into his estate. The only way he can move on is if someone performs a courageous deed in his name. Nevé Campbell, Edward Wiley and Cherie Lunghi co-star.

TV Trivia

Gregory Peck ("The Omen") never signed a long-term contract with a single studio, and he personally chose all his scripts.

Horror master Vincent Price ("The Fly") graduated from Yale University, and later studied at the University of London.

Scott Speedman ("Dark Blue") was born in London, and entered the acting arena on a dare from his then-girlfriend.

Lon Chaney Jr. ("The Wolf Man") was born Creighton Tull Chaney, and was forbidden by his actor father to enter show business.

Boris Karloff ("The Raven") studied in London to be a diplomat, but wound up working on a farm in Canada prior to acting.

Sunday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Cold Case

The legendary 1968 concert performed by country-music icon Johnny Cash at Folsom Prison provides the backdrop for the new episode "The House." The script poses that on the night the show was beamed to prisons across the country, an inmate was killed at a facility near Philadelphia. When bones allegedly belonging to the victim are found in the present day, Lily (Kathryn Morris) investigates. Roxanne Hart ("Chicago Hope") guest stars.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

American Dreams

School officials aren't happy about the Vietnam War protest Meg (Brittany Snow) integrates into the play she's directing in the new episode "So Long, Farewell," but Chris (Milo Ventimiglia) admires her deep-ens. Roxanne (Vanessa Lengies) is stunned by Luke's (guest star Jamie Elman) return. Helen (Gail O'Grady) has an unsettling experience at work. JJ (Will Estes) steals himself for a dangerous mission.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

Determining that Susan (Teri Hatcher) played a role in the fire at Edie's (Nicollette Sheridan) home, Mrs. Huber (guest star Christine Estabrook) hatches a blackmail scheme in the new episode "Who's That Woman?" Carlos (Ricardo Antonio Chavira) aims his rage over Gabrielle's (Eva Longoria) infidelity at the wrong person. Lynette (Felicity Huffman) rejects a teacher's assessment of the twins' school-related problems.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie:

The Dead Will Tell

Now an "Everwood" cast member, Annie Heche also is the star and co-producer of this new melodrama based on the work of medium

James Van Praagh. The actress plays a woman whose fiancé (Jonathan LaPaglia, "The District") gives her an antique ring that causes her to have visions of its first owner ... a young woman who mysteriously vanished. Kathleen Quinlan and Chris Sarandon are featured.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Jack & Bobby

Grace and Jack (Christine Lahti, Matt Long) try to dissuade Bobby (Logan Lerman) from pursuing a relationship with Dex (guest star Jeanette Brox) in the new episode "Valentino." Bobby refuses to heed their warnings, so they take action themselves. Peter (John Slattery) overplays his hand in trying to protect Courtney (Jessica Pare) and embarrasses her among her fellow students.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

The abduction and murder of a well-known atheist prompts Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio; Kathryn Erbe) to interrogate the victim's granddaughter (guest star Marà Hobel, "Moulin Rouge"), who also was taken captive, in the new episode "Eosporos." Other relatives become suspects in the crime — and may be ruthless, since two of the kidnappers are found dead.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Boston Legal

Ex-prosecutor Lori (Monica Potter) ends up working with Edwin Poole (guest star Larry Miller), who has just left a mental hospital, in defending a police officer's accused killer in the new episode "Change of Course." Shore (James Spader) tries to work covertly in dealing with the shoplifting charges filed against a well-known corporate executive.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

Jordan (Jill Hennessy) heads south in response to a man's (guest star Mathew St. Patrick, "Six Feet Under") request to probe his father's murder in the new episode "Justice Delayed." The man died 40 years earlier while advocating civil rights, and Jordan and Nigel (Steve Valentine) run into many hurdles in trying to solve the case. Sidney (guest star Eugene Byrd) goes his own way in seeking the cause of a woman's death.

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE™

Use the clues to help unscramble the four jumbles. One letter to each square, to form four words.

10-24-2004
Clue: M.R.'s boss
Clue: T.C.F.C. star
Clue: Ben's locale
Clue: Soldier

Bonus: This was the number two show on television for three straight seasons.

Answers to 10/17/2004: Jumbles: FASTER JALOPY BUDDIES PARTNER. Bonus: In 2000, this actor bought Billy Joel's house in Amagansett, Village in the Hamptons (Long Island, NY). You can email David L. Hoyt at DLHoyt@aol.com.

October 24 - 30, 2004

Seas Coast Echo

Monday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Swan

It's extreme-makeover time for another group of women who subject themselves to a three-month regimen of surgery, dieting and therapy, as the second season of the unscripted series starts with a two-hour premiere. At the start of the show, last season's participants reunite to discuss what they've experienced since undergoing their transformations. Then it's on to the new bunch, who won't look in a mirror until the end of the process.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

7th Heaven

Martin (Tyler Hoechlin) feels cornered into living a lie when a new love interest (guest star Martha Plimpton), whose father is a soldier stationed in the Middle East, believes he's a rock-le police officer in the new episode "Regret to Inform." Eric and Annie (Stephen Collins, Catherine Hicks) recruit Kevin (George Stults) to help straighten things out, leading to rumors that his marriage to Lucy (Beverly Mitchell) is on the rocks.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Everybody Loves Raymond

A visitor (guest star Jason Kravits, "The Practice") stuns everyone else in the family by regarding Frank (Peter Boyle) as his inspiration in "The Mentor." Ray and Robert (Ray Romano, Brad Garrett) are especially surprised, and they strive to understand what Frank could have done to make someone want to follow in his footsteps.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Everwood

Ephram's (Gregory Smith) application to a Colorado college makes Andy (Treat Williams) fear his son is giving up on attending "Juillard" in the new episode "Shoot the Moon." Amy's (Emily VanCamp) decision to forgo Princeton to stay close to Ephram worries Harold (Tom Amandes). Andy works with Amanda (Anne Heche) and her unable-to-communicate husband (guest star Jason Beghe).

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

2004 Radio Music Awards

Many of today's top music stars are celebrated, based on the airplay their tunes of the past year have received, in this ceremony. Many of the nation's radio personalities are on hand as featured artists like Usher claim their awards and, in some cases, take the stage to perform songs for which they're being honored. Unlikely to have a "wardrobe malfunction" here, Janet Jackson receives the Radio Legend Award; Elton John also appears.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

A jury's trip to the house of a murder victim, the wife of a star baseball player, results in the murder of the likeliest suspect — the woman's husband, who also returned to the premises — in the episode "Hell Night." Horatio (David Caruso) and his fellow investigators determine evidence tampering occurred at the crime scene. J. August Richards ("Angel") and Susan Ward ("The In Crowd") guest star.

Wednesday Best Bets

Lost

Michael (Harold Perrineau) suffers a vicious beating, which only Jin and Sun (Daniel Dae Kim, Yunjin Kim) — who don't speak English — know the facts of, in the new episode "House of the Rising Sun." Several of the other plane-crash survivors debate which part of the island they should use to set up camp. Locke (Terry O'Quinn) makes a big discovery about Charlie (Dominic Monaghan).

7 p.m. on 39-WB

Smallville

An unusual glowing stone used by Lionel (John Glover) against Lex (Michael Rosenbaum) causes Clark (Tom Welling) and Lionel to trade bodies in the new episode "Transference." The switch gives Lionel the clear benefit, but he uses his newly acquired superpowers to cause trouble throughout Smallville. Trapped in Lionel's former prison cell, Clark has to figure out how to literally get back inside his own skin.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

Secrets of the Dead

LSD is most closely linked to the 1960s, but the hallucinogenic drug evidently was in use centuries ago as the cause of bad "trips" blamed at the time on sorcery. The episode "Witches' Curse" reveals a psychologist's findings from her search for a scientific rationale behind the Salem witch trials. The result was known back then as "bewitchment" instead of "getting high."

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The King of Queens

Carrie's (Leah Remini) enthusiasm for her new job as a team leader — which even has her willing to work on Saturdays — makes Doug (Kevin James) jealous of her in the new episode "Dugan Groupie." He seeks a promotion of his own and lands a position he's ill-prepared for. Arthur (Jerry Stiller) thinks Doug and Carrie lead a different life when he isn't present.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

The Mountain

Dowling (Mitch Pileggi) plans to address a board meeting about the property he has leased from the Carvers, unaware that the land is worthless, in the new episode "Best Laid Plans." Will (Anson Mount) intends to deliver the coup de grace to Dowling, publicly. Shelly (Tara Thompson) seeks alone time with Michael (Tommy Dewey) at a site where Sam (Penn Badgley) is house-sitting.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The West Wing

Representatives of Israel and Palestine visit Camp David as President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) tries to broker a Middle Eastern peace in the new episode "The Birnam Wood." Leo (John Spencer) remains at the White House, waiting for the right moment to give U.S. troops the order to launch an attack on a Syrian training camp for terrorists.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Great Performances

The telecast of each season's inaugural event at Carnegie Hall in New York is a staple of this series, which doesn't disappoint by presenting "Carnegie Hall Opening Night 2004." Under the guidance of its new music director, Christoph Eschenbach, the Philadelphia Orchestra is joined by cellist Yo-Yo Ma and legendary soprano Renee Fleming in renditions of a trio of Richard Strauss works.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Kevin Hill

Rhea Perlman ("Cheers") guest stars as the social worker sent by the court to determine whether Kevin (Taye Diggs) is suited to be the guardian of baby Sarah in the new episode "Home-work." Kevin appeals to a former flame, a pediatrician (guest star Michelle Hurd), for help. A woman (guest star Fiona Reid) sues her daughter (guest star Tamara Hope) for allegedly mismanaging a trust fund.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

An extreme makeover has a fatal result for a popular novelist in the new episode "Cut." Fontana and Green (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) trace her death to a plastic surgeon (guest star Bruce Altman) who had performed liposuction on her recently. At Branch's (Fred Dalton Thompson) urging, McCoy (Sam Waterston) pursues a criminal case against the doctor, rather than letting it be decided in a civil trial.

Life as we know it
Michael (D.B. Sweeney) gets concerned when Dino (Sean Faris) gives up his spot on the hockey team in the new episode "Partly Cloudy, Chance of Sex." Ms. Young (Marguerite Moreau) uses her own special method to calm Ben (Jon Foster) enough for him to succeed in auditioning for the school play. Dylan Baker ("Road to Perdition"), James McDaniel ("NYPD Blue") and Megan Gallagher ("Millennium") guest star.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS
CSI: Crime Scene Investigation
An exclusive community becomes a murder scene in the new episode "Swap Meet." The victim had been intimately involved with several people, casting suspicion on a number of neighbors. Catherine (Mary Helgenberger) lobbies to be promoted to supervisor of the day shift. Guest stars include Dina Meyer, Dedee Pfeiffer, Doug Savant and Danielle Savre.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
The Apprentice
As the November sweeps begin, the remaining contestants continue the competition with the new episode "A Tale of Two Leaders." Donny Deutsch, the advertising veteran who has his own CNBC show, gets involved in the marketing effort to recruit new members of the New York City Police Department. The project managers perform in a manner sure to get Donald Trump's attention; his trusted assistant Carolyn Kepcher also weighs in.

Carolyn Kepcher

8:59 p.m. on 6-NBC
ER
During a stint in a neonatal intensive care unit, Abby and Neela (Maura Tierney, Fannin Nagra) ride a wave of emotions in dealing with babies battling for their lives in "NICU." One of the adults counseled by Neela and Abby turns out to be Dr. Weaver (Laura Innes), whose child with Lopez (guest star Lisa Vidal) faces health hurdles.

Sea Coast Echo

October 24 - 30, 2004

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
Joan of Arcadia

Joan's (Amber Tamblyn) efforts to gather more clothes for the needy backfires, making Helen (Mary Steenburgen) appear to profit from the church drive, in the new episode "Wealth of Nations." Lucy (Annie Potts) tries to ingratiate herself with Will (Joe Mantegna). Kevin (Jason Ritter) takes the microphone at a comedy club, hoping to make his mark with ex-girlfriend Beth (guest star Kimberly McCullough).

7 p.m. on 54-UPN
Star Trek: Enterprise

Echoes of previous "Star Trek" projects are incorporated into "Borderland," which launches a new three-episode story arc. The creator (guest star Brent Spiner, "Star Trek: The Next Generation") of a genetically engineered race known as Augments aids the Enterprise crew in finding a renegade breed planning to prompt a war between Earth and the Klingons.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Complete Savages

Halloween is a special time in the Savage household, but some changes to the usual celebration may be imminent in the new episode "Free Lily." The traditional seasonal prank, and Chris' inspiration from having to dissect a frog at school. Feeling he's too old to keep making candy-seeking rounds, Kyle (Evan Ellingson) abstains from trick-or-treating.

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB
A Scooby-Doo Halloween
 R u h ro!

If there's a time of year more appropriate than any other for the animated canine to get involved in typically spooky doings, this is it. This 2003 special puts the whole Scooby Gang in fresh peril during a visit to several of Velma's relatives, who live in a town that offers a big annual Halloween festival. Rock band KISS performs at the event (with the musicians voicing their cartoon likenesses).

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Hope & Faith

Carol Kane got to wax comic in the "Addams Family" movies, and she does so again as a guest star in the Halloween-themed new episode "Faith Scare-Field." She plays Hope and Faith's (Faith Ford, Kelly Ripa) neighbor, a former classmate they used to mistreat. She intends to even the score by inviting them to a Halloween party — really a ploy to trap them in her self-styled torture chamber.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
Third Watch

A serial killer (guest star Chris Elliott) challenges Detective Miller (guest star Aidan Quinn) — his old nemesis — and Yokas (Molly Price) to find the latest victim of the murder spree in the new episode "Greatest Detectives in the World." Carlos (Anthony Ruivivar) recovers from an injury. Officer Finney (Josh Stewart) is praised for his dispatching of a felon.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS
Dr. Vegas

The son (guest star Erik Palladino, "ER") of Tommy's (Joe Pantoliano) best friend causes problems when he visits the casino in the new episode "Limits." Vic (Tom Sizemore) finds him cheating at gambling, then Alice (Amy Adams) ends up in a situation with him that threatens her job as well as Billy's (Rob Lowe). Veronica's (Sarah Lancaster) father (guest star Harry Groener) goes through detox.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Less Than Perfect

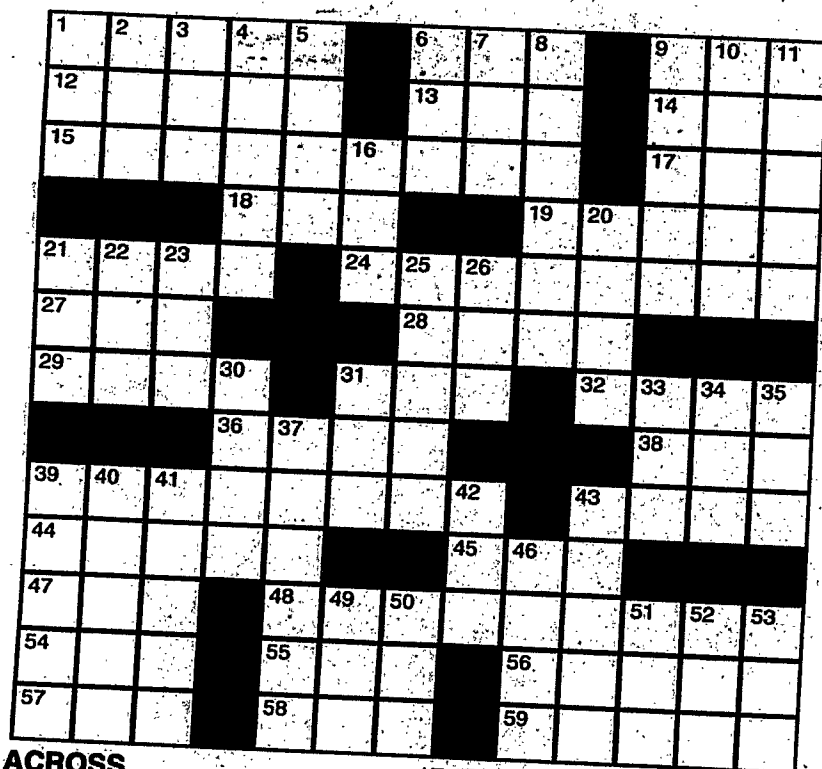

Claude and Ramona (Sara Rue, Sheri Shepherd) have differing reactions to finding a co-worker deceased in the new episode "Knock, Knock, Who's Dead?" Claude tries to locate his next of kin while Ramona tries to outpace Lydia (Andrea Parker) to take over his office. Carl (Will Sasso) is in costume when he finds a new romantic interest

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Medical Investigation

The guest of honor at a Philadelphia bridal shower is the first of several people to become extremely ill in the new episode "Alienation." As Dr. Connor (Neal McDonough) and his colleagues try to identify the source, newspaper editors plan to publish a related story sure to cause panic. The team eventually traces the clues to an unwell native of Nigeria.

Movie: Salem's Lot
First filmed as a TV miniseries in 1979, novelist Stephen King's thriller is revisited in this 2004 version (shown here in its entirety). Rob Lowe stars as a journalist plagued by memories of his childhood in his seemingly ideal hometown. He returns there to solve his deeply personal mystery, only to encounter fresh terror. Andre Braugher, Donald Sutherland, Samantha Mathis, Rutger Hauer and James Crombie.

The case of two abandoned Chinese children makes their mother the quarry of Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) in "Debt." They learn that the woman is trying to ransom her elder daughter, being held by the smugglers who brought the family to America. The police detectives enlist the mother's sister (guest star Ming-Na, "ER") who
